Mississippi's Official and Statistical Register is published every four years. In it, Mississippians can find information about all sorts of topics – elected officials, state agencies, election returns, even the state fish.

The "Blue Book," though, is more than a reference book. It is a picture of how we see our state at a particular moment in time. Glancing back at an old Blue Book gives a reader a sense of how past Mississippians viewed their home and themselves.

Our love of home is, as Eudora Welty wrote, the "compass inside ourselves." This edition of the Blue Book includes passages from the works of a number of Mississippi's greatest authors and illustrates the cultural richness of our home state. As much as any of the statistics and facts included in this book, these writings help tell who we are.

WILLIAMS

"IT MADE A YOUNG BOY FEEL GOOD having the weight of all these fish in the dripping sack when you lifted it, knowing you had provided for a large family and maybe even neighbors at supper. You felt to be a small hero of some distinction, and ahead of you was that mile walk through the neighborhood lanes where adults would pay attention to your catch and salute you. The fishing rod on your shoulder, you had done some solid bartering with the sea, you were not to be trifled with."

STATE SYMBOLS

Great Seal

The State Seal has been in use since Mississippi became a state in 1817. It is described in the Laws of the State of Mississippi, First Session, First General Assembly, 1817-1818: "The seal of this state, the inscription of which shall be 'the great seal of the state of Mississippi' around the margin, and in the center an eagle, with the olive branch and quiver of arrows in his claws."

State Coat-of-Arms

On February 7, 2001, Governor Ronnie Musgrove signed into law Senate Bill No. 2285 designating the above design as the official Mississippi Coat of Arms:

"… a shield, blue in color, with an eagle upon it with extended pinions, holding in the right talon a palm branch and bundle of arrows in the left, with the word "Mississippi" above the eagle; the lettering on the shield and the eagle to be in gold; below the shield two (2) branches of the cotton stalk, saltier wise, and a scroll below extending upward and on each side three-fourths (3/4) of the length of the shield; upon the scroll, which is to be red, the motto to be printed in gold letters upon white spaces, the motto to be "Virtute et Armis"; this being the same Coat-of-Arms adopted by the Legislature in Chapter 37, Laws of the Extraordinary Session of 1894."

This design was declared the official state Coat-of-Arms by the 1894 Legislature, but the original law was not brought forward in the 1906 revision of the Mississippi Code. The Mississippi Supreme Court ruled in May 2000 that Mississippi did not have an official Coat-of-Arms. A 17-member commission appointed by Governor Ronnie Musgrove to study the issue recommended to the Legislature the re-adoption of the Coat-of-Arms.

State Flag

By majority vote on April 17, 2001, the citizens of Mississippi adopted the following as Section 3-3-16 of the Mississippi Code:

"The official flag of the State of Mississippi shall have the following design: with width two-thirds (2/3) of its length; with the union (canton) to be square, in width two-thirds (2/3) of the width of the flag; the ground of the union to be red and a broad blue saltire thereon, bordered with white and emblazoned with thirteen (13) mullets or five-pointed stars, corresponding with the number of the original States of the Union; the field to be divided into three (3) bars of equal width, the upper one blue, the center one white, and the lower one, extending the whole length of the flag, red (the national colors); this being the flag adopted by the Mississippi Legislature in the 1894 Special Session."

Although, the 1894 Mississippi Legislature had adopted the flag described above, during the 1906 revision of the Mississippi State Code, the law designating an official state flag was not brought forward. On May 4, 2000, the Mississippi Supreme Court ruled that Mississippi did not have an official state flag. The election to select the official state flag was the recommendation of a 17-member commission appointed to study the issue by Governor Ronnie Musgrove. The 2001 Legislature passed a law setting the date for the special election. Voters chose between two designs. For more information about the Official State Flag Special Election, see page 656.

STATE FLOWER AND TREE

An election was held in November 1900 to select a State Flower. Votes were submitted by 23,278 school children. The magnolia received 12,745 votes, the cotton blossom 4,171, and the cape jasmine 2,484. A few votes were for other flowers. The magnolia was officially designated as the State Flower by the 1952 Legislature. In 1935, the Director of Forestry started a movement to select a State Tree for Mississippi. The tree was to be nominated and elected by school children of the State. Four nominations were made–the magnolia, oak, pine, and dogwood. The magnolia received the majority. On April 1, 1938, the Mississippi Legislature officially designated the magnolia as the State Tree. Chapter 365, Laws of Mississippi 1938.

STATE BIRD

Found in all sections of Mississippi, the cheerful Mockingbird was selected as the official State Bird by the Women's Federated Clubs and by the State Legislature in 1944.

STATE MOTTO

The state motto of Mississippi, Virtute et Armis, meaning "by valor and arms," was suggested by the Honorable James Rhea Preston, a native of Virginia, who was at the time Superintendent of Education in the State of Mississippi.

STATE STONE

A Senate Concurrent Resolution designating petrified wood as the State Stone was adopted May 14, 1976.

STATE BEVERAGE

An act to designate milk as the State Beverage was adopted by the Mississippi Legislature during the 1984 Regular Session. Chapter 394, General Laws of Mississippi 1984.

STATE FOSSIL

A Senate concurrent resolution designating the pre-historic whale as the State Fossil was adopted March 26, 1981.

STATE LAND MAMMALS

The white-tailed deer (Odocoileus virginianus) was designated the State Land Mammal of Mississippi by Senate Bill No. 2324, General Laws of Mississippi of 1974. The Red Fox was also named State Land Mammal in the 1997 Legislative Session.

STATE WATERFOWL

The wood duck (Aix sponsa) was designated the State Waterfowl of Mississippi, Chapter 551, General Laws of Mississippi of 1974.

STATE FISH

The largemouth or black bass (Micropterus salmoides) was designated the State Fish of Mississippi, Chapter 551, General Laws of Mississippi of 1974.

STATE INSECT

The honeybee (Apis mellifera) was designated the State Insect of Mississippi, Chapter 317, General Laws of Mississippi of 1980.

STATE SHELL

An act designating the oyster shell (Crassostrea virginica) as the State Shell was approved April 12, 1974, Chapter 551, General Laws of Mississippi of 1974.

STATE WATER MAMMAL

An act designating the bottlenosed dolphin (Tursiops truncatus), commonly called the porpoise, as the State Water Mammal was approved April 12, 1974, Chapter 551, General Laws of Mississippi of 1974.

STATE BUTTERFLY

An act designating the spicebush swallowtail (Pterourus troilus) as the State Butterfly of Mississippi was approved in 1991. Chapter 315, General Laws of Mississippi of 1991.

STATE WILDFLOWER

The Coreopsis was designated the State Wildflower in 1991, Chapter 332 of the General Laws of Mississippi.

STATE DANCE

The square dance was adopted as the American folk dance of Mississippi, Chapter 303 of the General Laws of Mississippi in 1995.

STATE LANGUAGE

English was designated the official language of the state, Chapter 439 of the General Laws of Mississippi in 1987.

STATE GRAND OPERA HOUSE

The Grand Opera House of Meridian was designated the State Grand Opera House, Chapter 313 of the General Laws of Mississippi of 1993.

STATE SONG

"Go, Mississippi" words and music by Houston Davis.

The Jackson Board of Realtors undertook the task of finding a satisfactory song to represent the State of Mississippi. They selected through an advisory committee a song entitled, "Go, Mississippi" by Houston Davis. On May 17, 1962, the Mississippi Legislature officially designated "Go, Mississippi" as the official song of the State of Mississippi. General Laws of Mississippi of 1962, Chapter 654.

Flag Etiquette

The United States Flag

The following flag laws and regulations are contained in the Public Law as amended July 7, 1976, by the 94th Congress of the United States. They set forth the existing rules, customs, and etiquette pertaining to the display and use of the flag of the United States of America.

Section 1

The following codification of existing rules and customs pertaining to the display and use of the flag of the United States of America shall be and is hereby established for the use of such civilians or civilian groups or organizations as may not be required to conform with regulations promulgated by one or more executive departments of the Government of the United States.

The flag of the United States, for purposes of this chapter, shall be defined according to Title 4, United States Code, chapter 1, section 1 and section 2, and Executive Order 10834 issued pursuant thereto.

Section 2

(a) It is the universal custom to display the flag only from sunrise to sunset on buildings and on stationary flagstaffs in the open. However, when a patriotic effect is desired, the flag may be displayed twenty-four hours a day if properly illuminated during the hours of darkness.

(b) The flag should be hoisted briskly and lowered cautiously.

(c) The flag should not be displayed on days when the weather is inclement, except when an all weather flag is displayed.

(d) The flag should be displayed on all days, especially on New Year's Day, January 1; Inauguration Day, January 20; Lincoln's Birthday, February 12; Washington's Birthday, third Monday in February; Easter Sunday (variable); Mother's Day, second Sunday in May; Armed Forces Day, third Saturday in May; Memorial Day (half-staff until noon), the last Monday in May; Flag Day, June 14; Independence Day, July 4; Labor Day, first Monday in September; Constitution Day, September 17; Columbus Day, second Monday in October; Navy Day, October 27; Veterans Day, November 11; Thanksgiving Day, fourth Thursday in November; Christmas Day, December 25; and such other days as may be proclaimed by the President of the United States; the birthdays of States (date of admission); and on State holidays.

(e) The flag should be displayed daily, on or near the main administration building of every public institution.

(f) The flag should be displayed in or near every polling place on election days.

(g) The flag should be displayed during school days in or near every schoolhouse.

Section 3

That the flag, when carried in a procession with another flag or flags, should be either on the marching right; that is, the flag's own right, or, if there is a line of other flags, in front of the center of that line.

(a) The flag should not be displayed on a float in a parade except from a staff, or as provided in subsection (i).

(b) The flag should not be draped over the hood, top, sides or back of a vehicle or of a railroad train or boat. When the flag is displayed on a motor car, the staff shall be fixed firmly to the chassis or clamped to the right fender.

(c) No other flag or pennant should be placed above or, if on the same level, to the right of the flag of the United States of America, except during church services conducted by naval chaplains at sea, when the church pennant may be flown above the flag during church services for the personnel of the Navy.

(d) The flag of the United States of America, when it is displayed with another flag against a wall from crossed staffs, should be on the right, the flag's own right, and its staff should be in front of the staff of the other flag.

(e) The flag of the United States of America should be at the center and at the highest point of the group when a number of flags of States or localities or pennants of societies are grouped and displayed from staffs.

(f) When flags of States, cities or localities, or pennants of societies are flown on the same halyard with the flag of the United States, the latter should always be at the peak. When the flags are flown from adjacent staffs, the flag of the United States should be hoisted first and lowered last. No such flag or pennant may be placed above the flag of the United States or to the United States flag's right.

(g) When flags of two or more nations are displayed, they are to be flown from separate staffs of the same height. The flags should be of approximately equal size. International usage forbids the display of the flag of one nation above that of another nation in time of peace.

(h) When the flag of the United States is displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle from a windowsill, balcony, or front of a building, the union of the flag should be placed at the peak of the staff unless the flag is at half-staff. When the flag is suspended over a sidewalk from a rope extending from a house to a pole at the edge of the sidewalk, the flag should hoisted out, union first, from the building.

(i) When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall, the union should be uppermost and to the flag's own right, that is, to the observer's left. When displayed in a window, the flag should be displayed in the same way, with the union or blue field to the left of the observer in the street.

(j) When the flag is displayed over the middle of the street, it should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east and west street or to the east in a north and south street.

(k) When used on a speaker's platform, the flag, if displayed flat, should be displayed above and behind the speaker. When displayed from a staff in a church or public auditorium, the flag of the United States of America should hold the position of superior prominence, in advance of the audience, and in the position of honor at the clergyman's or speaker's right as he faces the audience. Any other flag so displayed should be placed on the left of the clergyman or speaker or to the right of the audience.

(l) The flag should form a distinctive feature of the ceremony of unveiling a statue or monument, but it should never be used as the covering for the statue or monument.

(m) The flag, when flown at half-staff, should be first hoisted to the peak for an instant and then lowered to the half-staff position. The flag should be again raised to the peak before it is lowered for the day. On Memorial Day the flag should be displayed at half-staff until noon only, then raised to the top of the staff. By order of the President, the flag shall be flown at half-staff upon the death of principal figures of the United States Government and the Governor of a State, territory or possession, as a mark of respect to their memory. In the event of the death of other officials or foreign dignitaries, the flag is to be displayed at half-staff according to presidential instructions or orders, or in accordance with recognized customs or practices not inconsistent with the law. In the event of the death of a present or former official of the government of any State, territory or possession of the United States, the Governor of that State, territory or possession may proclaim that the National flag shall be flown at half-staff. The flag shall be flown at half-staff thirty days from the death of the President or a former President; ten days from the death of a Vice President, the Chief Justice or a retired Chief Justice of the United States, or the Speaker of the House of Representatives: from the day of death until interment of an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, a Secretary of an executive or military department, a former Vice President, or the Governor of a State, territory or possession; and on the day of death and the following day for a Member of Congress. As used in this subsection:

1. the term "half-staff" means the position of the flag when it is one half the distance between the top and bottom of the staff;

2. the term ''executive or military department" means any agency listed under sections 101 and 102 of Title 5, United States Code; and,

3. the term ''Member of Congress" means a Senator, a Representative, a Delegate, or the Resident Commissioner from Puerto Rico.

(n) When the flag is used to cover a casket, it should be so placed that the union is at the head and over the left shoulder. The flag should not be lowered in the grave or allowed to touch the ground.

(o) When the flag is suspended across a corridor or lobby in a building with only one main entrance, it should be suspended vertically with the union of the flag to the observer's left upon entering. If the building has more than one main entrance, the flag should be suspended vertically near the center of the corridor or lobby with the union to the north, when entrances are to the east and west, or to the east when entrances are to the north and south. If there are entrances in more than two directions, the union should be to the east.

Section 4

That no disrespect should be shown to the flag of the United States of America, the flag should not be dipped to any person or thing. Regimental colors, State flags, and organization or institutional flags are to be dipped as a mark of honor.

(a) The flag should never be displayed with the union down, except as a signal of dire distress in instances of extreme danger to life or property.

(b) The flag should never touch anything beneath it, such as the ground, the floor, water or merchandise.

(c) The flag should never be carried flat or horizontally, but always aloft and free.

(d) The flag should never be used as wearing apparel, bedding, or drapery. It should never be festooned, drawn back, nor up, in folds, but always allowed to fall free. Bunting of blue, white and red, always arranged with the blue above, the white in the middle, and the red below, should be used for covering a speaker's desk, draping the front of the platform, and for decoration in general.

(e) The flag should never be fastened, displayed, used or stored in such manner as to permit it to be easily torn, soiled, or damaged in any way.

(f) The flag should never be used as a covering for a ceiling.

(g) The flag should never have placed upon it, nor on any part of it, nor attached to it any mark, insignia, letter, word, figure, design, picture or drawing of any nature.

(h) The flag should never be used as a receptacle for receiving, holding, carrying or delivering anything.

(i) The flag should never be used for advertising purposes in any manner whatsoever. It should not be embroidered on such articles as cushions or handkerchiefs and the like, printed or otherwise impressed on paper napkins or boxes or anything that is designed for temporary use and discard.

Advertising signs should not be fastened to a staff or halyard from which the flag is flown.

(j) No part of the flag should ever be used as a costume or athletic uniform. However, a flag patch may be affixed to the uniform of military personnel, firemen, policemen, and members of patriotic organizations. The flag represents a living country and is itself considered a living thing. Therefore, the lapel flag pin being a replica, should be worn on the left lapel near the heart.

(k) The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning.

Section 5
During the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag or when the flag is passing in a parade or in review, all persons present except those in uniform should face the flag and stand at attention with the right hand over the heart. Those present in uniform should render the military salute. When not in uniform, men should remove the headdress with their right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Aliens should stand at attention. The salute to the flag in a moving column should be rendered at the moment the flag passes.

Section 6
During rendition of the national anthem when the flag is displayed, all present except those in uniform shall stand at attention facing the flag with the right hand over the heart. Men not in uniform should remove their headdress with their right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Persons in uniform should render the military salute at the first note of the anthem and retain this position until the last note. When the flag is not displayed, those present should face toward the music and act in the same manner they would if the flag were displayed there.

Section 7
The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag:

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all," should be rendered by standing at attention facing the flag with the right hand over the heart. When not in uniform men should remove their headdress with their right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Persons in uniform should remain silent, face the flag, and render the military salute.

Section 8
Any rule or custom pertaining to the display of the flag of the United States of America, set forth herein, may be altered, modified or repealed, or additional rules with respect thereto may be prescribed, by the Commander in Chief of the Armed Forces of the United States, whenever he deems it to be appropriate or desirable; and, any such alteration or additional rule shall be set forth in a proclamation.

No person shall display the flag of the United Nations or any other national or international flag equal, above, or in a position of superior prominence or honor to, or in place of, the flag of the United States at any place within the United States or any Territory or possession thereof: Provided, That nothing in this section shall make unlawful the continuance of the practice heretofore followed of displaying the flag of the United Nations in a position of superior prominence or honor, and other national flags in positions of equal prominence or honor, with that of the flag of the United States at the headquarters of the United Nations.

THE MISSISSIPPI STATE FLAG

The state flag may be displayed from all public buildings from sunrise to sunset; however, the state flag may be displayed from all public buildings twenty-four (24) hours a day if properly illuminated. The state flag should not be displayed when the weather is inclement, except when an all-weather flag is displayed. The state flag shall receive all of the respect and ceremonious etiquette given the American flag. Provided, however, nothing in this section shall be construed so as to affect the precedence given to the flag of the United States of America. Miss. Code Ann., § 3-3-15 (1972).

PLEDGE TO THE MISSISSIPPI FLAG

"I salute the flag of Mississippi and the sovereign state for which it stands with pride in her history and achievements and with confidence in her future under the guidance of Almighty God."

Miss. Code Ann., § 37-13-7 (1972).

EXECUTIVE

The Executive Branch, established in Article 5 of the Mississippi Constitution of 1890, has the duty and responsibility of executing governmental programs and policies established by law.

Governor

Ronnie Musgrove

On January 4, 2000, Ronnie Musgrove was elected Mississippi's 62nd Governor. He is a Democrat.

His term as Governor follows a distinguished career of public service. As a two-term State Senator, he chaired the Education Committee. As Lieutenant Governor, he was recognized nationally as a leader among his peers, serving as chairman of the National Conference of Lieutenant Governors in 1998.

Currently he serves on the Executive Committee of the Southern Regional Education Board, the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards, the National Assessment Governing Board, the National Board of Directors of Jobs for America's Graduates, the Executive Committee of the Democratic Governor's Association, and is Chairman-elect of the Southern States Energy Board. In addition, Governor Musgrove serves on the Executive Committee of the National Governors' Association.

Governor Musgrove is committed to improving the quality of life for every Mississippian. By targeting education, health care, economic growth, and public safety, he is making a difference for Mississippi.

In May 2000, Governor Musgrove signed a bill into law which will raise teacher pay in Mississippi to the Southeastern average. He created the Task Force on Classroom Technology to oversee the placement of an Internet-accessible computer in every classroom in Mississippi by the end of 2002.

Also in May 2000, Governor Musgrove unveiled a new plan of action to promote the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP), providing needed insurance coverage to more than 40,000 additional Mississippi children of working families, an increase of 70 times the number covered when he took office.

EXECUTIVE

Governor Musgrove created a new economic development plan, the Advantage Mississippi Initiative. With the passage of supporting legislation, Mississippi now has economic development advantage over competing states, as evidenced by Nissan's move to Mississippi.

A native of the Tocowa Community in Panola County, Musgrove was born July 29, 1956. He is a graduate of Northwest Community College, the University of Mississippi, and the University of Mississippi School of Law, and is the proud father of two children, Jordan and Carmen Rae.

Duties: The Governor is the Chief Executive Officer of the state, charged with executive direction and supervision of the general administration of the State. In this capacity, he or she sees that the laws are faithfully executed, supervises the official conduct of executive officers, acts as commander-in-chief of the state militia, and appoints officials as prescribed by law.

He or she is responsible for the presentation of a balanced budget to the Legislature, and approval or veto of legislation passed by the Legislature. He or she may call extraordinary sessions of the Legislature when he or she deems it necessary, and may issue pardons, executive orders, and extraditions of fugitives from other states.

The office provides staff assistance and liaison in all areas of state government administration and researches agency programs and policies.

A number of officers are appointed by the Governor. Among these are the Adjutant General, the Commissioner of Public Safety, and the chief executive officers of the departments of Banking and Consumer Finance, Mississippi Development Authority, Environmental Quality, and the State Tax Commission. The Governor also appoints members to numerous executive and administrative boards and commissions who, in turn, appoint executive officers to the departments they lead. Some of these departments are Finance and Administration, Health, Corrections, Health, Education, and the State Personnel Board. The Governor serves a term of four years and may be re-elected for an additional term. Miss. Const. 1890, Article 5, §§ 116-125. Miss. Code Ann., § 7-1-1 et seq. (1972).

Qualifications: A qualified elector, at least 30 years old, a United States citizen for 20 years, and a resident of the state for five years next preceding the day of election.

First occupied in 1842, the Mississippi Governor's Mansion is the second oldest continuously occupied governor's residence in the United States.

Lieutenant Governor

Amy Tuck

Amy Tuck was elected Lieutenant Governor in 1999. She is a Democrat.

During her first legislative session as presiding officer of the state Senate, Tuck successfully promoted a multi-year plan to raise teachers' salaries to the Southeastern average, require greater accountability by teachers and school officials for student performance, and impose mandatory auto liability insurance.

A native of Maben, Tuck was born July 8, 1962, and received a bachelor's degree in political science and a master's degree in public policy and administration from Mississippi State University. She earned the Juris Doctorate degree from the Mississippi School of Law at Mississippi College.

From 1990 to 1995, Tuck served as a State Senator and a professor at Wood College in Mathiston. In the Senate, she chaired the County Affairs Committee, gaining wide support in the passage of a long-term program to repair and replace thousands of dangerous bridges throughout Mississippi. She was a member of the Appropriations and Highways and Transportation committees and was honored as Outstanding Legislator by the Mississippi Firefighters' Association. She was elected Secretary of the Senate in 1996.

The President's Commission on the Status of Women named Tuck the 2000 Outstanding Mississippi Woman, and Mississippi State University honored her with the Mississippi Woman 2000 Award.

She is on the Board of Directors for the Mississippi Arts Fair for the Handicapped, the Advisory Board for the Mississippi Education Policy Fellowship Program, and the Advisory Board of Directors for Keep Mississippi Beautiful. She holds memberships in the Mississippi Law Enforcement Officers' Association, the Mississippi Business and Professional Women's Club, the Golden Key National Honor Society, and is an honorary member of the Civil Air Patrol. Tuck is a Methodist.

Duties: In addition to the Governor, the Mississippi Constitution makes provision for a Lieutenant Governor who acts as president of the state Senate. The Lieutenant Governor presides over the Senate, rules on points of order, appoints standing committees of the Senate, appoints all select and conference committees as ordered by the Senate, and refers all bills. He or she serves as a member of the Senate Rules and Joint Legislative Budget Committees, votes only in cases of ties and speaks from the floor while the Senate is in Committee of the Whole, and signs all finally approved bills and resolutions. The Lieutenant Governor serves a term of four years and may be re-elected for an additional term. Miss. Const.

1890, Article 5, §§ 128-132, and 136. Miss. Code Ann., §§ 5-1-13, 5-1-43, and 5-1-47 (1972).

Secretary of State
Eric Clark

Eric Clark was elected Secretary of State in 1995 and re-elected in 1999. He is a Democrat.

As Secretary of State, Clark has worked to reform the state's campaign finance laws, fought voter fraud, and started "Promote the Vote," recognized as the most successful student voter project in the country. He oversees 16th Section Lands which generate about $50 million for education every year, and serves as trustee of the public trust tidelands on the Gulf Coast. In this capacity, he has promoted balanced economic development and acquired thousands of acres of endangered coastal wetlands for permanent preservation. He also enforces the laws that protect Mississippi investors and has strengthened the climate for charitable giving in Mississippi.

A native of Smith County, Clark was born July 25, 1951. He graduated valedictorian of Taylorsville High School and received a bachelor's degree from Millsaps College, a master's degree from the University of Mississippi, and a doctorate in history from Mississippi State University. A former public school and community college teacher, Clark taught history and government at Mississippi College from 1989-1995. He also manages his family tree farm in Smith County.

Prior to being elected to statewide office, he served 16 years in the Mississippi House of Representatives.

Clark is a member of the Mississippi Economic Council, Mississippi Farm Bureau, Mississippi Forestry Association, and Mississippi Historical Society. He was the 1995 recipient of the American Family Association's God and Country Award for authoring the law that outlaws possession of child pornography in Mississippi.

Clark is married to the former Karan Killebrew of Durant and Forest, who is a registered nurse. They are the parents of two children — Charles and Catherine. The Clarks are active members of the First Baptist Church of Brandon where he serves as a deacon and Sunday School teacher.

Duties: The Secretary of State directs a service and information agency with six major statutory functions: administration of the Mississippi Corporation Law, The Uniform Commercial Code, the Uniform Securities Law, and the Elections Code; administration and supervision of the 16th Section School Trust Lands, the Tidelands Trust, lieu lands, and tax-forfeited property; and issuing documents and publications of the state, including those for the executive and legislative branches. Investigating charity and securities fraud, enforcing campaign finance and lobbyist reporting requirements, issuing notary commissions, registering correspondence schools, administering the state's trademark and service mark laws, service of process, and administering the Administrative Procedures Act are also functions of the Secretary of State's Office. The Constitution designates the Secretary of State as the "keeper of the capitol." The Secretary of State is elected to a four-year term and may be re-elected. Miss. Const. 1890, Article 5 §§ 133 and 136. Miss. Code Ann., § 7-5-1 et seq. (1972).

Qualifications: A qualified elector, at least 25 years old and a citizen of the state for five years next preceding the day of election.

Attorney General

Mike Moore

Mike Moore was first elected Attorney General in 1987 and is now serving his fourth term. He is a Democrat.

In his first three terms as Attorney General, Moore worked to protect children and the elderly. He succeeded in getting a law passed to imprison people who abuse elderly citizens. He has also worked with the state's educators to combat youth violence in schools.

On behalf of the State of Mississippi, he filed suit against 13 tobacco companies in 1994, making Mississippi the first state to insist that cigarette manufacturers reimburse the state for costs it incurred treating smoking-related illnesses. The suit resulted in a $4.1 billion settlement for Mississippi to be placed in a Health Care Trust Fund. It will be used to improve Mississippians' health. Following Mississippi's lead, other states have received settlements on the same issue.

In 1992, Moore became the first resident Mississippian to be selected one of Ten

Most Outstanding Young Americans by the National Jaycees. In 1994, he received the prestigious Wyman Award from his fellow Attorneys General, naming him the most outstanding attorney general in the nation. Moore was also president of the National Association of Attorneys General. For his work and leadership in pursuing the unprecedented lawsuit against the tobacco industry, the National Law Journal named him Lawyer of the Year, and Governing Magazine named him 1998 Public Official of the Year.

Moore was born April 3, 1952, in Jackson and was graduated from the Pascagoula public schools. He earned a bachelor's degree from the University of Mississippi and the Juris Doctorate degree from the University of Mississippi School of Law.

Moore began his career in public service as an assistant district attorney on the Coast and later served as the state's youngest district attorney.

Moore and his wife, the former Tisha Wood of Pascagoula, are the parents of a son, Kyle. The family attends St. Richard's Catholic Church in Jackson.

Duties: The Attorney General is the chief legal officer and advisor for the State with responsibility to serve as lawyer for the State, its public officials, and governmental agencies. The Attorney General has the sole power under Mississippi law to bring or defend a lawsuit on behalf of the State. He or she is also empowered to act as counsel to state agencies and to defend them or bring suit on their behalf, either in person or through assistants.

The Attorney General employs a staff of attorneys, investigators, and office personnel, chosen because of legal talents or other skills. The major divisions and sections of this office are Civil and Criminal Litigation, Opinion Procession, Governmental Affairs, White Collar Crime, and Public Advocacy, consisting of Consumer Protection, Medicaid Fraud, Child Protection, and Drug Prevention. The Attorney General is elected to a four-year term and may be re-elected. Miss. Const. 1890, Article 6, § 173. Miss. Code Ann., § 7-5-1 et seq. (1972).

Qualifications: A qualified elector, at least 26 years of age, a practicing attorney for five years, and a citizen of the state for five years next preceding the day of election.

Duties: Transportation Commissioners are elected from the three Supreme Court Districts of the state and have the authority and responsibility for the control and supervision of all modes of transportation in the state dealing with aeronautics, highways, public transit, and rail safety. The Commission appoints an Executive Director of the Department of Transportation to carry out the policies set by the Commission.

The Department of Transportation has full and general supervision over all matters relating to airport development, highway construction and maintenance, weight enforcement, public transit, and rail planning. The Department also works with state colleges, universities, and other state agencies in transportation-related matters. Transportation commissioners are elected to four-year terms and may succeed themselves in office. Miss. Code Ann., § 65-1-1 et seq. (1972).

Qualifications: A qualified elector and a resident of the Supreme Court District in which election is sought.

For more information about the Transportation Commission, see pages 30 and 384.

Capitol Street was wide and clean and lined with shops. There were two banks, Primos Restaurant was there and a sign proclaiming John Juniker, Jeweler. Mississippi's two biggest department stores, amiable rivals, sat like giants caddy-cornered across the street from each other. There was the square white Krystal which Nina loved for its tiny square hamburgers between pocketbook rolls.

Gubernatorial Succession

When the office of Governor shall become vacant, by death or otherwise, the Lieutenant Governor shall possess the powers and discharge the duties of the office. When the Governor shall be absent from the state, or unable, from protracted illness, to perform the duties of the office, the Lieutenant Governor shall discharge the duties of said office until the governor be able to resume his duties; but if, from disability or otherwise, the Lieutenant Governor shall be incapable of performing said duties, of if he be absent from the state, the President of the Senate Pro Tempore shall act in his stead; but if there be no such president, or if he be disqualified by like disability, or be absent from the state, then the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall assume the office of Governor and perform the duties; and in case of the inability of the foregoing officers to discharge the duties of Governor, the Secretary of State shall convene the Senate to elect a President Pro Tempore. The officer discharging the duties of Governor shall receive as compensation while performing such duties, the compensation to which he is regularly entitled by law for service in the position to which he was elected and, in addition thereto, an amount equal to the difference between such regular compensation and the compensation of the Governor. Should a doubt arise as to whether a vacancy has occurred in the office of Governor or as to whether any one of the disabilities mentioned in this section exists or shall have ended, the Secretary of State shall submit the question in doubt to the judges of the Supreme Court, who, or a majority of whom, shall investigate and determine the question and shall furnish to the Secretary of State an opinion, in writing, determining the question submitted to them, which opinion, when rendered as aforesaid, shall be final and conclusive.

Mississippi Constitution of 1890, § 131, as amended December 8, 1992.

LEGISLATIVE

The Mississippi Legislature is made up of a Senate and a House of Representatives. At present, there are 52 senators and 122 representatives.

Mississippi Legislative Branch

Duties: The state Constitution places law-making authority in the Legislature which also has the power of the purse, a constitutional provision that no money can be spent from the state's treasury unless the Legislature passes a law to do so. The Senate has advice and consent over appointments made by the governor. The power of impeachment is vested solely in the House; the power to try impeachment lies in the Senate. The House has the duty to elect the governor if no candidate receives a majority of both the popular vote and the electoral vote in the general election. Senators and representatives are elected for four-year terms and may be elected to successive terms.

LEGISLATIVE

Redistricting: The Constitution requires the Legislature to draw new, contiguous state legislative districts every ten years to reflect changes in population. No more than 52 senatorial districts and 122 house of representative districts are allowed. The Mississippi Legislature is also charged with the responsibility of drawing districts for the U.S. House of Representatives following each Census. If the Legislature does not adopt the new legislative districts in the time allowed by the Constitution, a five-member commission consisting of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court as chairman, the Attorney General, the Secretary of State, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate must do so. Miss. Const. of 1890, Article 8, § 254. Miss. Code Ann., §§ 5-3-81 et seq. and 5-3-121 et seq. (1972).

Qualifications: A senator must be at least 25 years of age at the time he or she takes office, a resident for two years immediately preceding the election of the district to be represented, and a qualified elector of the state for four years. Miss. Const. of 1890, Article 4, § 42.

A representative must be at least 21 years of age at the time he or she takes office, a resident citizen of the state for four years, a resident of the county and district to be represented for two years immediately preceding the election, and a qualified elector of the state. Miss. Const. of 1890, Article 4, § 41.

Officers: The president and presiding officer of the Senate is the Lieutenant Governor; the second in command is the President Pro Tempore. The presiding officer of the House of Representatives is the Speaker of the House, a state representative who is elected to the position by House members. The Speaker Pro Tempore is the second-ranking representative.

Terms and Sessions: Legislators are administered the oath of office by the

Lieutenant Governor

Amy Tuck

Duties: President of the Senate. Elected in statewide election for a four-year term and may be re-elected for one succeeding term, and again after a full term has passed. Presides over the Senate, rules on points of order, nominates standing committees of Senate and appoints all select and conference committees as ordered by Senate. Ex officio member of the Senate Rules Committee. Directs authority over officers and employees of Senate. Votes only in cases of ties and speaks from the floor while the Senate is in Committee of the Whole. Signs all finally approved bills and resolutions. For more information about the Lieutenant Governor, see pages 16 and 433.

Speaker of the House

Timothy Alan Ford

Duties: Elected by the members of the House for a term of four years and may be re-elected. Responsible for preserving order and decorum in the House. All committees of the House, except the Rules Committee and the Management Committee, are appointed by the Speaker unless otherwise specifically directed by the House. Serves as an ex officio member of the Rules Committee and the Management Committee. All questions on which the House votes are put by the Speaker, and he or she determines if the proposition has carried. Besides these duties, he or she is a member and alternating Chairman of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee. For more information about the Speaker of the House, see page 61.

Secretary of State on the first day of the regular session of the year following election. The Constitution requires the Legislature to convene yearly on the Tuesday after the first Monday in January.

Volume of Legislation: During each regular session, the Legislature sends to the governor more than 600 bills to be signed into law. Frequently, more than one-fourth of those bills involve the finance of state government (appropriations). Twenty to twenty-five percent of all bills introduced become law. The Secretary of State's Office assigns chapter numbers to the bills, distributes copies according to law, and certifies the bills for legal proceedings as requested.

Rules: The Constitution stipulates that bills may originate in either chamber of the Legislature. It empowers each chamber to determine its own rules of procedure, although each is prohibited from adjourning for more than three days without the consent of the other chamber. Adjourning to places other than the House and Senate chambers is prohibited as well.

Each body adopts its own rules, although joint rules are adopted to govern legislative procedures that affect the orderly flow of bills between the houses.

Length of Session: The Constitution provides for legislative sessions to last no more than 90 days except for the first session of a new term, which may exceed no more than 125 days. Sessions may be extended when necessary by two-thirds vote in both houses. The governor may call a special session whenever he or she deems it necessary. Numerous legislative committees also work between sessions on a wide variety of proposals. In addition, individual legislators often use the interim months to research and prepare bills for the next session. Members also work to help the citizens they represent.

Accountability: Legislative accountability to the people of Mississippi is provided by publication of all proceedings in Senate and House journals which are published by the Secretary of State. Moreover, the Constitution requires that the doors of each chamber shall be open "except in cases which may require secrecy."

84th day	119th day	Deadline for final adoption of conference reports on appropriations and revenue bills and for conference reports on general bills and constitutional amendments to be filed.
85th day	120th day	Deadline to dispose of motions to reconsider conference reports on appropriations and revenue bills.
86th day	121st day	Deadline for first consideration of conference reports on general bills and constitutional amendments.
87th day	122nd day	Deadline for filing conference reports on general bills and constitutional amendments that had been recommitted for further conference.
88th day	123rd day	Deadline for adoption of conference reports on general bills and constitutional amendments after recommittal.
89th day	124th day	Deadline to dispose of motions to reconsider conference reports on general bills and constitutional amendments
90th day	125th day	Sine die.

*Appropriations, revenue, and local and private bills, and bills to restore suffrage are excluded from these deadlines. For purposes of the deadlines herein set forth, the term "revenue bills" shall include only those bills whose primary purpose is to increase or decrease taxes or to authorize the issuance of bonds or the borrowing of money. Bills which are primarily for regulatory purposes which have revenue provisions included shall not be considered as revenue bills for deadline purposes. The deletion from a bill of the features which made it a revenue bill shall render the bill a general bill for deadline purposes.

Initial conference reports on all bills must be filed with the Secretary/Clerk no later than the time of adjournment on the day prior to being called up and considered. Appropriations bills which actually appropriate money and are recommitted for further conference are excluded from the requirement that the subsequent conference report be filed and lay on table one (1) day before being considered, however, original action must be taken on all appropriations conference reports by 2:00 p.m. on the 84th/119th day and subsequent reports must be filed no later than 6:00 p.m.

Requests for general bills and constitutional amendments to be drafted must be made no later than 6:00 p.m. on the 11th/46th day. The Rules Committee of the House or Senate, as the case may be, may authorize any member of its respective house to make requests, for one or more general bills or constitutional amendments to be drafted, after the expiration of the deadline for making such drafting requests but before the deadline for introduction of bills and constitutional amendments, upon a determination by the Rules Committee that such drafting requests are in response to conditions of an emergency nature arising subsequent to the deadline for making requests for general bills and constitutional amendments to be drafted.

Whenever the word "day" appears in this rule, it shall mean calendar day.

The above schedule shall not be deviated from except by the passage of a concurrent resolution adopted by a vote of two-thirds (2/3) of the membership of the House and Senate present and voting.

How a Bill Becomes a Law

Drafting and Introduction. A bill must first be drafted in paper form. Legislative research and drafting offices are operated on a year-round basis in both the House and the Senate to assist the members with the necessary research and legal work involved in drafting bills in correct form.

Since the advent of annual sessions, a system of pre-filing has been instituted in both Houses. This means that bills may be written and introduced on an unofficial basis in the interim between sessions. For all practical purposes, the pre-filed bills are treated in the same manner as bills introduced when the Legislature is actually in session. At the time a member signifies that a bill is to be filed, it is placed on the Speaker's/President's desk for referral to Committee and, after referral, is given a number which it will retain throughout the legislative process. When the session convenes, the pre-filed bills are introduced officially into the records. Bills introduced after the session convenes are dropped into the "hopper" at the Clerk's/Secretary's desk. Bills must be typewritten on legal-sized paper, double-spaced, with the title and name of author or authors on the outside and must be introduced in original form.

Referred to Committee. Each bill is referred to one or more of the standing committees in the House or Senate for study and recommendation. In the regular order of business, the bills are read by title and number, and the committee to which it has been referred is announced. All bills are listed on a daily introduction list, entered in the bill docket and committee books, and copies are reproduced. The bill itself is placed in a jacket and put into the committee box.

Reported by Committee. The committee to which a bill has been referred reports its recommendations to the House or Senate. It may report the bill "Do Pass," "Do Pass As Amended," "Committee Substitute Do Pass," or it may report the bill "Do Not Pass," which has the effect of killing the bill unless a Minority Report is filed within three days by one or more of the members of the committee who were present at the meeting at which the bill was reported.

If a bill has not been reported by a committee after reference, a motion to withdraw the bill may be filed. When a bill has been reported favorably by a committee, it is placed on the calendar for House or Senate action. Separate divisions of the calendar are kept for bills reported by the appropriations, revenue, and local and private committees. Appropriations and Revenue bills have precedence over bills on the General Calendar.

The Legislature operates under a system of deadlines which sets the limits of time in which bills may be introduced, reported from Committee, acted upon originally in each House, amendments considered from the other House, and Conference Reports adopted. The deadlines are for the purpose of assuring an orderly flow of legislative action within the 90-day constitutional limitation of sessions. The first session of each administration has a limitation of 125 days, and the deadlines are adjusted for the additional time.

Consideration by House/Senate. When a bill comes up in its regular order on the calendar, it is usually called up and handled on the chamber floor by the Chairman of the Committee to which it has been referred. The bill is read and debated by the House or Senate, and, at this time, amendments may be proposed and either adopted or rejected.

Other possible actions may be taken at this time –- the bill may be recommitted to the committee for further study; it may be laid on the table, subject to call; it may be set for special order; or postponed to another date for action. An amendment to strike all after the enacting clause, if adopted, would kill the bill, or if a motion carried to indefinitely postpone the bill, it would be dead.

The Vote. A quorum must be present for the vote on the final passage of any measure. Bills of a general nature require a majority of those present and voting for passage; appropriation bills require a majority of the elected membership; revenue bills require a three-fifths majority of those present and voting; bills restoring suffrage or bills granting a donation or gratuity to any person require two-thirds of the elected membership. Adoption of Conference Reports or concurrence in Senate or House amendments require the same vote as was required for the original passage of the bill. After passage of a bill, it is subject to reconsideration for one whole legislative day. After the time has passed for reconsideration, any amendments that were adopted are engrossed into the bill, which is then sent to the other House.

House/Senate Action. When a bill reaches the other House, it goes through the same process of referral to Committee, report by Committee, and floor action. If a bill passes the other House without amendment, it is returned to the House of origin, enrolled, signed by the Speaker and the Lieutenant Governor, and presented to the Governor. If the other House adopts amendments to the bill, the bill and the accompanying amendments are returned to the House of origin, and the bill is placed on the calendar for concurrence or non-concurrence in the amendments of the other House. Should one House concur, the other is notified, the bill is engrossed, enrolled, and presented to the Governor. If one House declines to concur in the amendments of the other, it may request a conference to work out the differences between the two Houses. A conference committee is composed of three members from each House, and if the report of the conference committee is adopted by both Houses, the bill is engrossed, enrolled, and presented to the Governor.

Governor's Action. The Governor must either approve a bill or return it with objections to the House of its origin within five days (except Sundays) or it becomes law without his signature. (If the Legislature adjourns before the five days have expired, the Governor then has 15 days for consideration of the bill.) When a bill has been vetoed, the objections of the Governor are spread at large upon the Journal, it is reconsidered, and, if two-thirds of those present and voting vote in favor of the bill, it is forwarded to the other House. If two-thirds of that House vote in favor of its passage over the Governor's veto, the bill then becomes a law.

The above steps in the passage of a bill are a simplified example of the parliamentary procedure involved in legislation. The process seems very complex, but a knowledge of the rules and procedures and actual experience in observing a legislature in action help in understanding that the rules and procedures are to provide thorough study and debate of measures before they become law.

A graphic representation of this process can be found on page 110.

(601) 359-3114

The New Capitol is the centerpiece of state government. It was begun in 1901 and completed in 1903 at a cost of $1,093,642 in back taxes owed the State of Mississippi by the Illinois Central Railroad. Designed in the Beaux Arts style by St. Louis architect Theodore Link, the building sits on the grounds of the old state penitentiary between Mississippi and High Streets in downtown Jackson, its golden eagle visible from Interstate 55.

The Senate is housed in the Capitol's east wing; the House of Representatives in the west. Flags at full staff atop the chambers indicate when the houses are convened. The Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and Secretary of State each have Capitol offices.

The first floor features the Hall of Governors, portraits of Mississippi governors beginning with Winthrop Sargent, first Territorial Governor (1798-1801). The second floor houses the Old Supreme Court chamber on the Senate side and the Old State Library on the House side. Both are now used as committee rooms. The main floor of the Rotunda is also located here. The Senate and House of Representatives chambers are located on the third floor and are viewed from the fourth floor galleries.

The Capitol is open to the public Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. Tours are free and are conducted at 9:00 a.m., 10:00 a.m., 11:00 a.m., 1:30 p.m., 2:30 p.m., and 3:30 p.m. For appointment for group tours, call the Capitol Hostess at 359-3114.

THE LEGISLATIVE PROCESS

JUDICIAL

In Mississippi, the judicial branch of government has three components: the Supreme Court, the Court of Appeals, and the Trial Courts.

JUDICIAL

SUPREME COURT. The Supreme Court is the state's court of last resort. It is composed of nine elected justices, three from each of the state's three supreme court districts. Their eight-year terms are staggered to provide continuity. The Supreme Court hears appeals from Mississippi's two courts of general jurisdiction: circuit and chancery; in limited circumstances, it may also hear direct appeals from county courts. In addition to appellate jurisdiction, the Supreme Court has the power to issue extraordinary writs. The nine justices may sit en banc (all members participating) or in three-judge panels.

Reserved to the Supreme Court are death penalty cases, appeals involving utility rates, annexations, bond issues, election contests, and statutes held unconstitutional by a lower court; cases involving attorney discipline and judicial performance; certified questions from a federal court; cases involving a major question of first impression; fundamental and urgent issues of broad public importance requiring prompt determination; substantial constitutional questions concerning the validity of a statute, ordinance, court rule, or administrative rule or regulation; and issues where there is an inconsistency or conflict in court decisions.

Qualifications: A supreme court justice must be a qualified elector of the Supreme Court district in which election is sought, at least 30 years of age, a practicing attorney, and a citizen of the state for five years. Miss. Const. of 1890, Article 6, §§ 150 and 250; Miss. Code Ann., § 23-15-993 (1972).

Terms of Court: A term of the Supreme Court shall be held twice each year in the city of Jackson, to be styled the Supreme Court; and the terms shall commence the second Monday of September and the first Monday of March, and the Court shall be kept open for the discharge of business for at least nine months of every year if the business therein should require. Miss. Code Ann., § 9-3-3 (1972).

COURT OF APPEALS. The Court of Appeals was created in 1994 and began sitting the following year. It is the state's only intermediate court and hears only appeals assigned to it by the Supreme Court.

The Court of Appeals is composed of ten elected judges, two from each congressional district. Their terms are for eight years and are staggered to provide continuity. The chief justice of the Supreme Court appoints the chief judge of the Court of Appeals to a four-year term. The chief judge of the Court of Appeals appoints the presiding judges to terms of two to four years.

Qualifications: A qualified elector, at least 30 years of age, a practicing attorney, and a citizen of the state for five years immediately preceding the election. Miss. Code Ann., § 9-4-5 (1972).

Terms of Court: The Court of Appeals meets continuously throughout the year and hears arguments every month except July. By law, the court is located in the City of Jackson as close as convenient to the State Law Library and the Supreme Court. Miss. Code Ann., § 9-4-11 (1972).

TRIAL COURTS. Mississippi's trial court system consists of two general jurisdiction courts (circuit and chancery) and three limited jurisdiction courts (county, justice, and municipal).

CHANCERY COURTS. Twenty chancery courts have jurisdiction over matters involving equity, divorce, alimony, probate, guardianship, and sanity. In those counties with no county court, chancery courts have exclusive jurisdiction over juvenile matters. Their jurisdiction over equity matters involving less than $75,000 is concurrent with county courts. Chancery court judges, often called chancellors, are elected in non-partisan races to four-year terms. Most chancery court cases are non-jury proceedings, although juries may be impaneled in certain circumstances.

Qualifications: A qualified elector, at least 26 years of age, a practicing attorney, and a citizen of the state for five years. Miss. Const. of 1890, Article 6, § 154.

Terms of Court: Each year, Chancellors issue orders establishing the commencement and continuation of terms of court no later than October 1. If no order is issued, then the court terms remain unchanged from the previous year. This information is posted at each courthouse and is published by the Secretary of State in the Judiciary Directory and Court Calendar. Miss. Code Ann., § 9-5-3 (1972).

CIRCUIT COURTS. Twenty-two circuit courts have original jurisdiction over all civil and criminal matters not vested exclusively in another court. Circuit judges are elected in non-partisan races to four-year terms. Most circuit court cases are heard by juries, although some circumstances may permit bench trials. Circuit judges have the power to issue extraordinary writs.

Qualifications: A qualified elector, at least 26 years of age, a practicing attorney, and a citizen of the state for five years. Miss. Const. of 1890, Article 6, § 154.

Terms of Court: Each year, the Circuit Court judges issue orders establishing the commencement and continuation of terms of court no later than October 1. If no order is issued, then the court terms remain unchanged from the previous year. This information is posted at each courthouse and is published annually by the Secretary of State in the Judiciary Directory and Court Calendar. Miss. Code Ann., § 9-7-3 (1972).

COUNTY COURTS. Nineteen counties have established county courts. County court judges are elected in non-partisan races to four-year terms. They have exclusive jurisdiction over matters involving eminent domain, partition of personal property, unlawful entry and detainer, and juvenile matters.

County courts have concurrent jurisdiction with justice courts in all matters, civil and criminal, and concurrent jurisdiction with circuit and chancery courts in all matters of law and equity up to $75,000. They may also adjudicate certain non-capital felony cases transferred by the circuit courts.

Qualifications: A qualified elector at least 26 years old, a practicing attorney for five years, and a citizen of the state for five years preceding the election. Miss. Code Ann., § 9-9-1 et seq. (1972).

Terms of Court: County court usually begins the second Monday of each month unless a special order is entered by the court to extend the term, or, in the case of some counties with two courthouses, the law provides special terms of court for each courthouse. Miss. Code Ann., § 9-9-19 (1972).

JUSTICE COURTS. Justice courts have jurisdiction in all civil cases involving amounts of $2,500 or less. They conduct preliminary hearings in felony cases and have concurrent jurisdiction with circuit courts over criminal matters where punishment cannot exceed a fine and sentence of one year in county jail. Justice courts also handle preliminary matters committed inside the county, but outside of city limits. Each county is divided into justice court districts, the number determined by population. Judges are elected in partisan elections to four-year terms.

Qualifications: A qualified elector, a resident of the county two years next preceding election, a holder of a high school or general equivalency diploma, and completion of a course of training required by law within six months of the beginning of the term of office. Miss. Const. of 1890, Article 6, § 171 (1975), and Article 12, § 250. Miss. Code Ann., § 9-11-3 (1972).

Terms of Court: Justice court judges hold regular terms of their courts, at such times as they may appoint, but no more than two and not less than one term in every month. Miss. Code Ann., § 9-11-15 (1972).

DISTRICT ATTORNEYS. There are 22 district attorneys in Mississippi, each assigned to a circuit court district. District attorneys are prosecutors who represent the people of Mississippi in all criminal matters originating in a trial court except in those counties with county prosecuting attorneys.

Qualifications: A qualified elector of the district and a practicing attorney admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of Mississippi for two years. Miss. Code Ann., § 25-31-1 (1972).

COUNTY PROSECUTING ATTORNEYS. The county prosecuting attorney represents the state in all felony matters before the county's justice courts and county courts. Additionally, the county prosecuting attorney represents the state in criminal cases appealed from county court to circuit court, can present any matter to the grand jury, and has full responsibility for all misdemeanor youth court proceedings and all other cases not specified to the district attorney. He or she can also be appointed by the district attorney as designee. In counties where no county prosecuting attorney is elected, one may be employed by the county board of supervisors to represent certain cases.

Qualifications: A qualified elector and a regular licensed and practicing attorney. Miss. Code Ann., § 19-23-1 (1972).

MUNICIPAL COURTS. Municipal courts have exclusive jurisdiction over city ordinance violations. Under certain conditions, some may also exercise jurisdiction in cases involving juveniles. Municipal court judges are appointed by municipal governing bodies. Miss. Code Ann., § 21-23-1 (1972).

Qualifications: A qualified elector of the county in which the municipality is located and an attorney at law. Miss. Code Ann., § 21-23-3 (1972).

Terms of Court: Municipal judges may hold court every day except Sundays and legal holidays if the business of the municipality requires. Miss. Code Ann., § 21-23-7 (1972).

Information supplied by the Mississippi Supreme Court.

He could perfectly think of sitting in the sun porch of Beebe's old yellow colonial with an armada of Impalas and Town Wagons in the drive, while Hollis paced back and forth contrasting the law of Mississippi with the Napoleonic Code of Louisiana and trying to epitomize what it was like to lawyer in the State of Mississippi.

FEDERAL

The United States Constitution provides that all legislative powers of the federal government are vested in a Congress consisting of a Senate and House of Representatives.

FEDERAL OFFICIALS. The Congress assembles at least once every year, beginning on the first Monday of December, in the capitol building in Washington, D.C.

Powers granted to Congress by the constitution include imposing and collecting taxes, paying the national debt, regulating international and interstate commerce, establishing military forces, sitting in tribunals inferior to the supreme court, and providing for the common defense and general welfare of the United States.

FEDERAL

THE SENATE. Each state is represented by two Senators who are elected to six year, staggered terms. Each Senator represents his or her entire state. Reserved to the Senate are the powers of trying all impeachments and reviewing all presidential appointments requiring Senate approval. The vice president of the United States is president of the Senate, but only votes in case of a tie.

Senators must be at least 30 years of age, a citizen of the United States nine years, and an inhabitant of the state he or she represents. Senators may be re-elected to consecutive terms.

THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. The House of Representatives is composed of members chosen every second year to represent the congressional districts of his or her state. Each state's number of congressional districts is determined by population, with the total membership of the House of Representatives being 435. Reserved to the House of Representatives is the origination of bills to raise revenue and the sole power of impeachment. The House of Representatives is led by a speaker who is chosen by the members.

Representatives must be at least 25 years of age, citizens of the United States seven years, and inhabitants of the state they represent. They may be re-elected to consecutive terms.

Source: The Constitution of the United States of America/ARTICLE 1 The Congress.

THE 2000 CENSUS. Mississippi's population determines the state's number of U.S. Representatives. From 1962 to 2002, Mississippi has had five congressional districts. Although Mississippi experienced a net gain of almost 300,000 citizens between 1990 and 2000, congressional reapportionment will cause the state to lose a congressional seat beginning with the congressional elections of 2002.

Congressional apportionment for each state is based upon (1) the resident population and (2) the overseas U.S. military and federal civilian employees (and their dependents living with them) allocated to their home state, as reported by the employing federal agencies.

Senator
Thad Cochran

Thad Cochran, the senior United States Senator from Mississippi, is serving his fourth term in the Senate. Previously, he served six years in the U.S. House of Representatives. He is a Republican.

Cochran is the chairman of the Appropriations and Governmental Affairs Subcommittees and a member of the Defense Appropriations Subcommittee. His subcommittees have jurisdiction over appropriations for the Department of Agriculture, as well as national security. He is also a member of the Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry Committee and the Rules Committee.

Cochran was born December 7, 1937, in Pontotoc, the son of educators. He attended the public schools and achieved the rank of Eagle Scout as a student in Byram. He earned undergraduate and law degrees from the University of Mississippi. Cochran studied international law under a Rotary Foundation Fellowship at Trinity College, Dublin, Ireland, where he addressed groups on the civil rights struggle in Mississippi and the United States. He was awarded honorary degrees from Mississippi College, Kentucky Wesleyan College, Blue Mountain College, and the University of Richmond.

While serving as an officer in the U.S. Naval Reserve, Cochran was graduated from the U.S. Navy School of Justice in Newport, Rhode Island. He later returned to the Officer Candidate School (OCS) in Newport to teach courses in military law and naval orientation.

He has received numerous conservation awards and authored the Mississippi Wilderness Act, insuring the perpetual protection of lands in Mississippi.

Cochran is a member of Northminster Baptist Church in Jackson. He and his wife, the former Rose Clayton of New Albany, have two children, Clayton and Kate.

But away off one day in Tishomingo County, I knew this: that my wish, indeed, my continuing passion, would be not to point the finger in judgment but to part a curtain, that invisible shadow that falls between people, the veil of indifference to each other's presence, each other's wonder, each other's human plight.

Senator
Trent Lott

Senate Republican Leader Trent Lott is serving his third term in the Senate. He previously served 16 years in the U.S. House of Representatives. Lott is the first member to be elected party whip in both the Senate and House of Representatives. He is a Republican.

He serves on the Finance, the Commerce, the Science and Transportation, and the Rules committees.

Lott was born October 9, 1941, in Grenada County, the son of a sharecropper farmer turned shipyard worker and a school teacher. He was educated in the Pascagoula public schools and earned undergraduate and law degrees from the University of Mississippi.

Lott attends First Baptist Church in Pascagoula. He is married to the former Patricia (Tricia) Thompson of Pascagoula. The couple has two grown children, a son Chet and a daughter Tyler.

CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS

District lines are subject to change based on the 2000 Census.

COUNTY

Mississippi has 82 counties, 72 of which have one county seat. The other ten have two county seats due to the division of court districts.

COUNTY GOVERNMENT. Mississippi became a territory of the United States in 1798. On December 10, 1817, Mississippi became the twentieth state admitted to the union. Counties organized prior to statehood and the organization dates are Adams (1798), Amite (1809), Claiborne (1802), Franklin (1809), Greene (1811), Hancock (1812), Jackson (1812), Jefferson (1799 - as "Pickering," named "Jefferson" in 1802), Lawrence (1814), Marion (1811), Pike (1815), Warren (1809), Washington (1800), Wayne (1809), and Wilkinson (1802). The last county formed was Humphreys County in 1918. County boundaries were changed over time to accommodate the formation of new counties.

Voters in 43 counties have chosen the Unit System as their form of county government; 39 counties have voted for the Beat System.

Most statutes governing counties are found in Chapter 19 of the Mississippi Code, available online in its unannotated version at www.sos.state.ms.us.

COUNTY

ELECTED OFFICIALS

Countywide offices

CHANCERY CLERK

Duties: The chancery clerk is elected to a four-year term and may run for re-election. The chancery clerk is the clerk of the board of supervisors and of the chancery court. The clerk is responsible for maintaining the records of both the board and the court. Miss. Const. of 1890, Article 6, §§138, 168. Miss. Code Ann., §§9-5-131 through 9-5-173 (1972).

Qualifications: A qualified elector of the county in which election is sought.

CIRCUIT CLERK

Duties: The circuit clerk is elected to a four-year term and may run for re-election. The clerk is the chief officer of the circuit court and chief elections officer of the county. The clerk maintains the voter rolls, assists the election commissioners in purging the voter rolls, and assists election officials in conducting primary and general elections. Miss. Const. of 1890, Article 6, §§138, 168. Miss. Code Ann., §§9-7-121 through 9-7-141 (1972).

Qualifications: A qualified elector of the county in which election is sought.

CORONER

Duties: The coroner is elected to a four-year term and may run for re-election. The coroner is the chief county medical examiner and/or county medical examiner investigator. This official is responsible for issuing declarations of death and performing or reporting results of autopsies in cases requiring such action. Miss. Const. of 1890, Article 5, §§135, 136, 138. Miss. Code Ann., §19-21-101 et seq. (1972).

Qualifications: A qualified elector, at least 21 years of age, of the county in which election is sought, and possessing a high school diploma or its equivalent, unless serving continuously since July 1, 1986.

COUNTY PROSECUTING ATTORNEY

Duties: The county prosecuting attorney represents the state in all investigations for felony in justice court and county court and in all criminal cases appealed to the circuit court from county court. The county prosecutor may assist the district attorney, present matters to the county grand jury, and has responsibility for some youth court proceedings. The county attorney is elected to a four-year term and may run for re-election. Miss. Const. of 1890, Article 5, §138. Miss. Code Ann., §19-23-1 et seq. (1972).

Qualifications: A qualified elector and a regular licensed and practicing attorney.

For more information about County Prosecuting Attorneys, see page 161.

COUNTY COURT JUDGE

Nineteen counties have established county courts. County court judges are elected in non-partisan races to four-year terms. They have exclusive jurisdiction over matters involving eminent domain, partition of personal property, unlawful entry and detainer, and juvenile matters. County courts have concurrent jurisdiction with justice courts in all matters, civil and criminal, and concurrent jurisdiction with circuit and chancery courts in all matters of law and equity up to $75,000. They may also adjudicate certain non-capital felony cases transferred by the circuit courts. Miss. Const. of 1890, Article 5, §138. Miss. Code Ann., §9-9-5 et seq. (1972).

Qualifications: A qualified elector at least 26 years old, a practicing attorney for five years, and a citizen of the state for five years preceding the election.

For more information about County Court Judges, see page 148.

COUNTY SURVEYOR

Duties: The county surveyor executes all orders of survey directed to him by any court, at the request of the owners or proprietors, and to survey, re-survey, measure, and divide land as requested by the county board of supervisors. Miss. Const. of 1890, Article 5, §§135, 136, 138. Miss. Code Ann., §19-27-3 et seq. (1972).

Qualifications: A registered land surveyor and a qualified elector of the county in which election is sought.

SHERIFF

Duties: The sheriff is the chief law enforcement officer of the county and is elected to a four-year term. He may run for re-election. The sheriff is the chief officer of the chancery and circuit courts and maintains the county law library. The sheriff is in charge of the county courthouse, jail, and protection of prisoners. Miss. Const. of 1890, Article 5, §§135, 136, 138. Miss. Code Ann., §19-25-1 et seq. (1972).

Qualifications: Not a defaulter to the State or any county or municipality or to the United States and a qualified elector.

SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION

All county superintendents of education are elected with the exception of Hinds County.

Duties: A county superintendent of education is to be in each county. The superintendent is elected for a term of four years and may seek re-election. The superintendent of education is the chief administrative officer of the school district. The superintendent serves as the executive secretary of the county board of education, but has no vote in the proceedings before the board and no voice in fixing its policies. The superintendent is the director of all schools in the county outside the municipal separate school districts. Miss. Const. of 1890, Article 8, §204. Miss. Code Ann., §37-5-61 et seq. (1972).

Qualifications: A qualified elector, the holder of a valid Administrator's certificate issued by the State Department of Education, and not less than four years of classroom or administrative experience.

For more information about Superintendents of Education, see page 405.

TAX ASSESSOR AND/OR COLLECTOR

Duties: The tax assessor and/or collector may serve in both capacities in all counties. Although 66 counties have combined tax assessor/collector offices, the offices are listed separately here as are those of the 16 counties which elect different individuals for these two offices. This official is elected to a four-year term and may run for re-election. The assessor's role is to maintain the personal, real, and ad valorem tax rolls of the county. The collector is responsible for keeping the records of tax payments and depositing the money in the county treasury. Miss. Const. of 1890, Article 5, §§ 135, 136, 138. Miss. Code Ann., §27-1-1 et seq. (1972).

Qualifications: A qualified elector of the county in which election is sought.

County District Offices

CONSTABLE

Duties: Constables keep and preserve the peace within the county by aiding and assisting in executing the criminal laws of the state for the justice court of the district. Constables shall obey all lawful orders and execute all judgments for justice courts within this district. Miss. Const. of 1890, Article 4, § 90(t). Miss. Code Ann., §19-19-1 et seq. (1972).

Qualifications: A qualified elector of the county and district in which election is sought.

ELECTION COMMISSIONER

Duties: An election commissioner's general duties include conducting elections, certifying election results, and purging voter rolls. Miss. Code Ann., §23-15-213 (1972).

Qualifications: A qualified elector of the county and district in which election is sought.

For more information about Election Commissioners, see page 315, 437, and 486.

JUSTICE COURT JUDGE

Duties: Justice court judges have civil and criminal jurisdiction of all actions where the principal of the debt, amount of the demand, or the value of the property sought to be recovered does not exceed $2,500. Miss. Const. of 1890, Article 6, §171 (1975). Miss. Code Ann., §9-11-1 et seq. (1972).

For more information about Justice Court Judges, see page 150.

Qualifications: A qualified elector and a resident of the county and district two years preceding the day of election, a high school graduate or its equivalent. Must complete a course of training required by law within six months of the beginning of the term of office.

SUPERVISOR

Duties: Supervisors have the power to adopt, modify, alter, or repeal orders, resolutions, or ordinances in their respective county and district not inconsistent with law. In general, supervisors have jurisdiction over roads, ferries, and bridges, tax levies, courthouses and jails, county-owned real property, appropriation of funds, contractual powers of municipality, as well as other powers expressly authorized by law. Miss. Const. of 1890, Article 6, §§138, 170, 176. County supervisors are mentioned more than 1,000 times in the Mississippi Code.

Qualifications: A qualified elector of the county and a resident in the district in which election is sought.

In addition to these county officials, some counties employ purchase clerks and road managers.

APPOINTED OFFICIALS

Countywide Offices

BOARD ATTORNEY

Duties: The board attorney represents the county's board of supervisors by their appointment. Miss. Code Ann., §19-3-47 (1972).

Qualifications: An attorney qualified to practice law in Mississippi.

COUNTY ADMINISTRATOR

Duties: The county administrator is appointed by the board of supervisors to perform duties related to all facets of administering county government. Miss. Code Ann., §19-4-7 (1972).

Qualifications: Holding at least a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university and having knowledgeable experience in any of the following fields: work projection, budget planning, accounting, purchasing, cost control, personnel management, and road construction procedures.

COUNTY COMPTROLLER

Duties: The county comptroller is appointed by the board of supervisors to act as bookkeeper for funds received, expended, or handled by the board. Miss. Code Ann., §19-3-61 (1972).

Qualifications: An individual qualified to perform bookkeeping duties.

I like to watch hawks. I like to watch them sail and flare over the pasture, set their wings, glide. Maybe I love them so much because they are so wild. Nothing touches a hawk, not fear, not compassion, nor weather, nor man.

Counties on the Internet

Some counties have official web sites which are listed in this chapter with the other county information. However, many county-related web sites are produced by schools and institutions of higher learning, individuals for genealogical research/family purposes, chambers of commerce and other entities for economic development purposes, and by municipalities, churches, and communities within the county.

The MSGenWeb project is part of the USGenWeb project, a volunteer organization with the goal of putting as much genealogical information online as possible. Although not all county web sites are presently functioning, the project has a county web site for each county in each state in the United States, including Mississippi. Visit www.rootsweb.com for more information.

But above all, the courthouse: the center, the focus, the hub; sitting looming in the center of the county's circumference like a single cloud in the ring of horizon, laying its vast shadow to the uttermost rim of horizon; musing, brooding, symbolic and ponderable, tall as cloud, solid as rock, dominating all: protector of the weak, judiciate and curb of the passions and lusts, repository and guardian of the aspirations and hopes...

—William Faulkner, Requiem for a Nun

Planning and Development Districts

The State of Mississippi set up ten multi-jurisdictional districts in the early 1970's for the purpose of planning, coordinating, and administering public programs and projects to enhance the economic development of the state. District boundaries were set up representing natural, social, and economic relationships. Each district is governed by a Board of Directors, nominated by the boards of supervisors from the member counties. From humble beginnings, the districts have expanded to cover such programs as offering computer training for county employees, acting as sources for new business information, being repositories of district economic development statistics, becoming international trade facilitators, and even acting as lead local agencies for aging. The districts were set up under part of the U.S. Office of Management and Budget Circular No. A-95, Public Law 90-577, Executive Order Number 81.

Spring had arrived. Jessie drove Todda home almost every night and Anna made her daily trip to the mill. The smell of resin of new sawdust, the grind and choke of the saws fastened upon her like a drug. Often she prolonged, much more than necessary, the gathering up of empty plates, cups, and utensils. As she drove away in the buggy she would look back for one last image. When she was out of sight she continued to hear the sound beating through the sweating men like one giant pulse. She understood why some of them had left their homes, their wives, for the sight and sound of a miraculous circle spewing its yellow dust.

MUNICIPAL

Today, Mississippi has 296 active municipalities including 107 cities, 168 towns, and 21 villages.

MUNICIPAL

The City of Natchez, once a frontier outpost on the Mississippi River, is Mississippi's oldest municipality, having been incorporated March 10, 1803. Two days later, Port Gibson, a settlement just up the river, became the second community to incorporate.

The Town of Farmington in Alcorn County is Mississippi's newest municipality, having been incorporated September 9, 1997.

Today, Mississippi has 296 active municipalities including 107 cities, 168 towns, and 21 villages. State law classifies municipalities with more than 2,000 inhabitants as cities, those with fewer than 2,000 and not less than 300 inhabitants as towns, and those with fewer than 300 but not less than 100 inhabitants as villages. Municipalities change classification according to the results of each decennial Census.

The 2000 Census shows the capital city of Jackson as the largest municipality in Mississippi, with a population of 184,256, and the smallest as Learned, also in Hinds County, with a population of 50.

The Census also identifies 32 communities as "Census Designated Places" (CDP's), which are statistical entities, defined for each decennial census according to Census Bureau guidelines. These areas comprise a densely settled concentration of population that is not within an incorporated place, but is locally identified by a name. CDP's are designated by state and local officials and the Census Bureau, following Census Bureau guidelines. Beginning with Census 2000, there are no size limits for CDP's.

Since 1803, some 593 Mississippi communities have incorporated, with 297 no longer being active municipalities. Only those areas with populations qualifying as either cities or towns (not villages) are now eligible for incorporation as municipalities.

There are four types of municipal government in Mississippi, as described in Miss. Code Ann., Title 21 (1972):

- Commission Form of Government
- Council Form of Government
- Mayor Council Form of Government
- Council-Manager Form of Government

The most common government type is the Mayor-Council form of government, and most councils are called Boards of Aldermen.

Elected municipal officials usually include the mayor and governing board members, and, in some instances, police chiefs. Appointed officials often include city attorneys, municipal judges, and city clerks.

Still, nothing gave Mississippians quite the feeling of our own Gulf Coast. We came down to it, driving through plain little towns, some pretty, some not, went south of Jackson through Hattiesburg. The names come back: Mendenhall, Magee, Mt. Olive, Collins, Wiggins, Perkinston. Somewhere in there was D'Lo, curiously pronounced Dee-lo.

Duties and responsibilities: Established in 1972 on the premise that the humanities are relevant to any enterprise involving serious thought, discussion, and decision-making, the Council has maintained a commitment to foster the public's understanding of historical, literary, and philosophical perspectives on human experience.

The humanities are both fields of knowledge and processes of critical thinking about and reflection on the ideas, writings, and events of our cultural heritage. The humanities disciplines, as defined by Congress, include languages and literature, history, archaeology, jurisprudence, philosophy, ethics, comparative religion, history and criticism of the arts, and social sciences employing historical and philosophical approaches. The contributions of scholars, writers, and researchers in such fields as philosophy, ethics, and jurisprudence enrich the civic dialogue in a democratic society. Insights about the past from archaeology and history enable us to interpret the present and plan for a better future. Through language, literature, and the arts, human beings express and reflect on the meaning of life.

That was the year of Cotton. I have spent years in raising cotton, but I have never yet seen cotton make like it did in 1932. It rained when it ought to rain and stopped when it ought to stop. The nights stayed hot during the time they ought to stay hot and of course the grass made, too, but daddy kept us in the fields from daylight to dark fighting that grass to give the cotton a chance. Me and John had planted us our own little cotton patch out behind the henhouse and it flourished, too.

Public Education

"Quality education for every child...every child a reader"

— State Department of Education Mission Statement

Mississippians frequently cite education as the state's number one priority. So, it should come as no surprise that the nation's premier organization dedicated to enhancing parental involvement in local public schools, Parents for Public Schools, was founded in Mississippi.

Because most citizens recognize that Mississippi's future is directly related to the success of its public schools, policy makers, parents, teachers, taxpayers, and students are continuously striving to improve our state's educational standards. And, they are succeeding. An educational reform movement that began in the early 1980's has resulted in more high school graduates, more students seeking college degrees, and more students being trained to meet the technological needs of Mississippi's industrial expansion.

The State Board of Education has identified several key priorities for advancing student achievement in Mississippi. They are: reading, early literacy, student achievement, teachers/teaching, leadership/principals, safe, orderly schools, and technology.

As testimony of their belief in public education, Mississippians support the public schools with their pocketbooks, both as individuals and as citizenry.

In January 2001, Jim and Sally Barksdale, the founders of Netscape, donated $100 million to create the Barksdale Mississippi Reading Institute. Its goal is to "provide a seamless educational focus from teacher preparation programs to public school classrooms designed to improve dramatically the reading skills of Mississippi schoolchildren."

The State Legislature invests about 42 percent of our state's general fund budget in public education. Funding was equalized in all school districts in 1997 through the Mississippi Adequate Education Program; in 2000 the Legislature passed a teacher pay raise package intended to bring teacher salaries in line with the Southeastern average by 2005. Local taxpayers annually approve numerous bond issues enabling school districts to improve their learning environments.

In a curriculum driven by the shared desire for our children to remain and succeed in Mississippi, incorporating computer technology into every facet of learning is a primary goal. Every school building in the state is already wired for Internet access, and the stated mission of this Technology Initiative is "to incorporate an Internet-connected computer into every classroom."

Both the Tech Prep Initiative and Fast Forward Mississippi are important school-to-career transition programs that are helping students make the connection between school and the modern work world. The programs enhance partnerships among education, business and industry, organized labor, communities, parents, schools, and higher education.

State Board of Education. The Mississippi Board of Education is comprised of nine members appointed by the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Types of School Districts. Mississippi has five types of school districts:

Consolidated School Districts – Districts which lie wholly within one county, but do not include separate and countywide districts.

Line Consolidated School Districts – Districts which embrace territory in two or more counties, but do not include municipal separate school districts.

Municipal Separate School Districts – Districts that encompass the boundary of a municipality, and may have added territory.

Special Municipal Separate School Districts – Municipal separate school districts which have been reconstituted or reorganized with added territory where the added territory, exclusive of any added territory which as part of the municipal separate school district before such reorganization, contains 25 percent or more of the total number of educable children of the district.

County School Districts – Districts which lie wholly within a county and are not constituted as either form of consolidated or municipal district.

Teacher Certification. All teachers are required to pass the National Teacher Examination. Four types of teacher or administrator certificates are offered:

AAAA Certificate – requires a doctorate

AAA Certificate – requires a master's degree and 30 semester hours

AA Certificate – requires a master's degree

A Certificate – requires a bachelor's degree

Education Revenue. Latest available figures show total tax revenue supporting Mississippi's public education is $2,887,004,687. Of that amount 55.68 percent is from state sources, 30.45 percent is from local sources, and 13.87 percent is from federal sources.

Statistics. Latest available figures (1999-2000 school year) show the following public education statistics:

Number of Students	489,588
Number of School Districts	152
Number of Schools	1,028
Number of Buses	7,191
Number of Miles	53,077,377
Children Transported	407,726
Number of Classroom Teachers	30,782
Number of Instructional Personnel	34,607
Average Classroom Teacher Salary	$31,897
Average Instructional Personnel Salary	$33,147

A BRIEF HISTORY OF SIXTEENTH SECTION PUBLIC SCHOOL TRUST LANDS

From Colonial Days to Statehood. The origin of Sixteenth Section Public School Trust Lands in America can be traced to the British and colonial tradition of reserving land for the support of public schools. After the formation of the Union, Thomas Jefferson incorporated the practice into the Land Ordinance of 1785.

Designed to encourage westward expansion, the Ordinance adopted a six-square-mile township as its basic unit of measure and " . . .reserved the lot no. 16, of every township, for the maintenance of public schools within said township. . . ."

The reservation of land for public schools was further confirmed in the Northwest Ordinance of 1787. Later, in 1798, when Congress established the Mississippi Territory, it provided a government initially based on the Northwest Ordinance model.

With division of the Mississippi Territory in 1817 to form the State of Mississippi and the Territory of Alabama, Congress called for a survey of land in the new state. Again, sixteenth section land was reserved in each township.

The Treaties. At the time of statehood, Native Americans inhabited Mississippi. The Choctaw Nation occupied the area south and west of a line extending southeasterly from the Coahoma and Tunica county boundary to a point on the old Natchez Trace in Webster County and then across Clay County in a generally southeasterly direction to a point on the Tombigbee River. The Chickasaw Nation inhabited the area north and east of that line.

In September 1830, the United States and the Choctaws signed the Treaty of Dancing Rabbit Creek. In accordance with the treaty, sixteenth sections were reserved from government land sales.

The territorial claims of the Chickasaws were resolved with their removal under the Treaty of Pontotoc in 1832. Although these lands were to be sold by the government to private parties ". . . in the same manner. . . ," they were, in fact, sold with no sixteenth section reservations.

Today, 15 counties lie entirely north of the Choctaw-Chickasaw Boundary and have no reserved sixteenth section lands. The counties are Tishomingo, Alcorn, Tippah, Benton, Marshall, DeSoto, Tunica, Tate, Lafayette, Union, Prentiss, Itawamba, Lee, Pontotoc, and Chickasaw. Another seven, Quitman, Panola, Yalobusha, Calhoun, Webster, Clay, and Monroe, are bisected by the Choctaw-Chickasaw Boundary and have no sixteenth section lands in the portions of those counties lying north of the boundary. Although the boundary passes through Tallahatchie County, there are no sixteenth sections lying north of the boundary in that county.

Chickasaw Cessions Lands. To compensate for this failure, in 1836 Congress granted the State of Mississippi 174,555 acres of unsold public land in Bolivar, Coahoma, Tallahatchie, Quitman, Panola, and Leake counties. In the 1850's, Congress and the State of Mississippi allowed this lieu land to be sold. Mississippi invested the $1,047,330 realized from the sale in 8 percent interest loans to railroad companies in the State. The principal was lost with the destruction of the railroads during the Civil War.

Thereafter, the Mississippi Legislature began making annual appropriations to school districts in the Chickasaw Cession equal to the 8 percent interest on the lost principal. The interest amount was reduced from 8 to 6 percent by the Constitution of 1890.

For decades, annual appropriations totaling approximately $62,000 were made to the school districts in the Chickasaw Cession. But, by the 1980's the estimated annual appropriation amounted to only $0.63 per pupil in the Chickasaw Cession school districts, while the estimated average income per pupil from sixteenth section land in the Choctaw Cession counties was $75.34.

In 1981, Chickasaw Cession school districts successfully challenged the disparity as a violation of the United States Constitution's equal protection clause. As a result, the Chickasaw Cession school districts now receive a payment per teacher unit based on the average annual expendable sixteenth section revenue per teacher unit received by the Choctaw Cession school districts, less the amount of the annual interest appropriation.

Choctaw Cessions Lands. In 1890, the United States Supreme Court declared the early laws reserving land in each township for the support of public education to be a "binding and perpetual obligation."

In 1895 the Mississippi Supreme Court ruled that sixteenth section lands are held by the State in trust for public schools. In 1906, Mississippi Supreme Court Chief Justice A. H. Whitfield opined:

"Sixteenth sections are set apart as a sacred trust. No greater trust can be committed to any state than that of the education of the children within its borders . . . . And, if one such trust can be more sacred than another, it is that trust designed to bring home to the doors of the poor children of the commonwealth the means of acquiring a good education."

Despite Congressional and federal and state judicial endorsements, management of the sixteenth section land, with few exceptions, ranged from indifferent to abusive. Disregarding the Mississippi Constitution's prohibition against donation of public lands, many 99-year leases of sixteenth section lands were given for one-time payments. Through generations, leaseholders mistakenly came to view themselves as the actual owners of the sixteenth sections.

This perception began to change in the early 1970's when Smith County Superintendent of Education Joe Tally refused to sign inadequately compensated leases. Litigation resulted in a Mississippi Supreme Court decision holding that sixteenth section lands must be leased for fair market value. The 1974 Legislature gave local school boards veto power in leasing sixteenth section land.

Sixteenth Section Land Reform Act of 1978. In 1978, the Sixteenth Section and Lieu Land Act was passed by the Legislature, with Lieutenant Governor Evelyn Gandy casting the tie-breaking vote in the Senate. It provides that sixteenth section school lands and lieu lands are held in trust for the benefit of the public schools; it transfers control of public school trust lands from the Boards of Supervisors to the Boards of Education, under the general supervision of the Secretary of State.

Classification of Sixteenth Section Lands. Since the passage of the 1978 Sixteenth Section and Lieu Land Act, sixteenth section land leases are based on a classification system. The nine classifications include: Forest Land, Agricultural Land, Industrial Land, Commercial Land, Residential Land, Farm Residential Land, Recreational Land, Other Land, and Catfish Farming Land. Classification is determined by a finding of the highest and best use of the land for producing the maximum revenue.

Timber and Forest Land. All timber on sixteenth section land is under the general supervision and management of the Mississippi Forestry Commission.

Leasing—Competitive Bidding. The local Boards of Education offer hunting and fishing leases, agricultural leases, and mineral leases through a competitive bidding process.

Only forest land may be leased for hunting and fishing. Leases are awarded to the highest bidder after advertisement. The most recent leaseholder of a hunting and fishing lease has the right to renew his lease by matching the highest acceptable bid received.

Agricultural leases are granted to the highest bidder after advertisement. Agricultural land may be leased for a maximum term of ten years for the cultivation of rice or for pasturage. For all other agricultural uses, the maximum term is five years.

All sixteenth section lands, regardless of classification, may be leased for the exploration, development, mining, and production of oil, gas, and minerals including: carbon dioxide and other gaseous substances; metals, compounds of metals, metal-bearing ores; coal, lignite, sulfur, salt, sand, gravel, fill dirt, and clay. The local Boards of Education grant leases to the highest bidders after advertisement.

Leasing—By Application and Appraisal. Leases for all sixteenth section land classifications, except for agricultural leases, hunting and fishing leases on forest land, and oil, gas, and mineral leases, are let by application to the local Superintendent of Education and upon approval of the Board of Education. Such leases must also be submitted to the Board of Supervisors for approval of the annual rental amount.

Annual rent for leases granted upon application is set at the appraised fair market rental of the land, excluding buildings and improvements not owned by the school district. For leases of industrial land and commercial land, the annual rental may not be set at less than 5 percent of the current market value, exclusive of buildings or improvements not owned by the school district.

The maximum lease term for all land classifications leased upon application is 40 years, and rent adjustment clauses are mandatory, except in leases of residential and farm residential land. Rent adjustment clauses are optional, but recommended, in residential and farm residential leases.

The holder of a lease granted upon application has a prior right to re-lease or extend an existing lease on terms as may be agreed upon with the Board of Education, but subject to the classification of the land.

Assignments. Assignments of leases of sixteenth section lands are allowed only if the lease contract so provides, or at the discretion of the Board of Education, provided that it may not arbitrarily withhold permission for assignment.

Revenues — Expendable and Non-expendable Funds. Revenues collected from the following sources are deemed expendable funds: lease bonuses and annual delay rentals collected under oil, gas, and mineral leases; annual rents collected under leases covering all sixteenth section land classifications; interest received upon loans or investments of the principal fund; and proceeds from the sale of timber. Generally, expendable funds may be used for all the same purposes as other available school funds in operating and maintaining the schools of the district.

The principal fund is a permanent fund consisting of revenue received from the following sources: easements and rights-of-way; sales of lieu land; permanent damages to school trust land; sales of nonrenewable resources including, but not limited to, the sale of sand, gravel, dirt, clays, and royalties received from the sale of mineral ores, coal, oil, and gas; sales of buildings on sixteenth section lands; and sales of timber. Except for income from timber sales, funds required to be deposited into the principal fund are not expendable. However, if a district desires to spend income from timber sales, it must maintain a separate principal fund account for timber income.

Districts are authorized to borrow principal funds at a rate of interest of not less than 4 percent per annum for a term of not more than 20 years for the erection, equipment, or repair of school buildings, improvement of timber stands, and to provide funds for any building project approved by the State Board of Education. Additionally, districts may borrow funds, at the same interest rate, for a term not exceeding ten years for the purchase of school buses.

It is the duty of the Board of Education to keep the principal fund invested.

Building On Reform. Great strides have been made in the management of the sixteenth section lands since the passage of the 1978 Sixteenth Section and Lieu Land Act. Under the leadership of former State Land Commissioner John Ed Ainsworth, and former Secretaries of State Edwin Lloyd Pittman and Dick Molpus, bold and courageous steps were taken to correct past abuses and to institute sound management practices.

As a strong proponent and defender of all public school trust lands, Secretary of State Eric Clark continues that tradition with the pledge to make sound management and full utilization of the sixteenth section land a priority of his tenure.

Community Colleges

MISSISSIPPI PUBLIC COMMUNITY AND JUNIOR COLLEGES

Mississippi's public community and junior college system began in 1924 when the Legislature authorized agricultural high schools and certain municipal school districts to include the freshman and/or sophomore years of college work. Four years later, these schools were directed to establish junior colleges and other school districts; counties were also allowed to unite to establish junior colleges of their own.

By 1930-31, 11 such institutions had been formed in connection with agricultural high schools. The combined enrollment was 1,619 students. By 1950, four additional junior colleges were founded, and the 15 districts boasted a combined enrollment of 7,984.

In 1987, the colleges were allowed to change their names to community college as a more appropriate description of their relationships with their districts.

Today, 15 community and junior colleges operate 32 centers. The system includes 23 comprehensive campuses and nine vocational-technical centers, three of which are combination secondary/post-secondary centers and one that is a secondary center only.

Latest available figures show a total enrollment of over 123,000 students with 31 percent in academic courses, 14 percent in vo-tech programs, and 55 percent in continuing education and economic development activities. Of the current enrollment, approximately 97 percent are Mississippi residents; 60 percent are female, 30 percent are part-time, and 34 percent are minority students.

Mission. Early junior colleges offered the freshman and sophomore years of academic college work. During the 1940's, vocational and trade programs were upgraded and expanded to accommodate World War II efforts and retraining of veterans. Nursing education, vocational, and technical education were added as missions during the 1950's and 1960's.

Public community colleges are the delivery system for post-secondary vocational-technical education in Mississippi. Approximately 400 approved courses afford a choice of over 100 unduplicated programs.

The Miss. Code Ann. §§ 37-4-1 and 37-29-1 (1972) set the missions of community and junior colleges to provide educational services for the people of the state through:

- Academic courses and degrees for transfer to universities and senior colleges
- Academic, technical, and vocational programs for career goals
- Continuing education opportunities
- Civic, economic, and cultural growth leadership
- Organization and Governance

The public community/junior college districts are political subdivisions of local rather than state government. Each district is governed by local boards of trustees which are comprised of from two to six members from each county in the district. The county superintendent of education may serve as one member with other members appointed by the boards of supervisors of the counties. Trustees serve five-year terms.

The State Board for Community and Junior Colleges was established as an independent state-level coordinating agency for the system, replacing the Junior College Commission. The State Board is comprised of ten members, appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. Members serve six-year terms which expire in staggered years.

The Board administers state laws and appropriations for the system, sets standards for operation, and approves new programs and attendance centers of the colleges.

Finance. Latest figures show the community and junior college districts spent approximately $335 million for educational and general activities. Budgets were derived from state appropriations, direct and indirect – 61.7 percent; student fees –19.7 percent; county taxes and other local taxes – 13 percent; federal – 5.6 percent. Of the operating funds, approximately 59.5 percent was spent for direct instructional costs, and 76 percent was spent for salaries and benefits of employees. In recent years, the state has provided bond money for various capital improvement projects.

Universities

The Board of Trustees of the State Institutions of Higher Learning provides management and control of Mississippi's system of eight universities. Created in 1943 by a Constitutional amendment, the Board consists of 12 members: one from each of the seven Congressional districts as they existed in 1944, one from each of the three Supreme Court districts, and two appointed from the state-at-large.

Every four years, the Governor appoints four members to the Board to serve 12-year terms. The appointees must be confirmed by the Senate.

The position of Commissioner of Higher Education was created by the Legislature in 1988 to replace the former Executive Secretary and Director of the Board position. The Commissioner is responsible for the day-to-day functions of the Board. The Commissioner serves as the Board's chief executive and administers its policies and decisions. In addition, the Commissioner directs a professional staff with expertise in academic programs, fiscal matters, communications, technology, research and planning, student financial aid, and physical facilities.

By statute the Board holds two regularly slated meetings annually, one in June and the other in January, and any special meetings as may be necessary on call of the president or on call of five members. The Board distributes a calendar of Board meetings, which has a meeting scheduled each month except December, when the Board is subject to call.

The Board oversees degree-credit courses, research and public service activities and programs at the eight public universities, the University of Mississippi Medical Center in Jackson, the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Center, Mississippi Agricultural, Forestry and Veterinary Medicine, seven degree-granting, off-campus instructional programs, and various other locations throughout the state. Available programs range from a variety of undergraduate disciplines to most professional fields. All eight universities offer master's level programs, six have programs at the education specialist level, and six offer doctoral-level programs.

In the 2000 fall term, the eight universities and the University of Mississippi Medical Center showed 64,184 students pursuing academic degree credit in the system. Of these 51,910 were undergraduate students and 12,274 were graduate students. Residents dominate enrollment with 50,916 students originating from Mississippi and 13,268 students from out-of-state. More than 80 percent of the students receive some form of financial assistance. As a result of support from the Governor and the Legislature, Mississippi student financial aid has shown a 30 percent increase in the overall participation in state-funded programs from FY 1997 to FY 2001. Funding for this same period has increased by 80 percent. The Mississippi Eminent Scholars Program, which requires a 3.5 grade point average and a 29 ACT score, has shown a 140 percent increase in the overall participation from FY 1997 to FY 2001. Funding for this same period has increased by 186 percent.

The Board oversees an annual budget of over $l.95 billion. Additionally, the Board has jurisdiction over the institutions' physical plants and lands valued at over $2.6 billion.

ELECTIONS

Americans express their opinions through their votes, and when we choose different leadership, those who have been voted out leave peacefully. They don't use guns or bombs or any sort of violence. Voting and the peaceful transfer of leadership are two of the greatest freedoms we have in this country, paid for by the sacrifices of millions of Americans over the past two and a quarter centuries. In the wake of the September 11, 2001, attacks, reminding our children why this nation is great is more important than ever.

Every year is an election year in Mississippi. Elections for all state offices and most county-level offices are held in years preceding presidential elections. Most municipal elections are conducted in years following presidential elections.

The Right To Vote

Registration qualifications. Every United States citizen has the right to vote in Mississippi elections as long as he or she is:

ELECTIONS

A resident of Mississippi and the county for 30 days

18 years of age or older

Not declared mentally incompetent by a court

Not convicted in a Mississippi court of murder, rape, bribery, theft, arson, obtaining money or goods under false pretense, perjury, forgery, embezzlement or bigamy, unless having been pardoned or had rights of citizenship restored by the governor, or had suffrage restored by the Legislature.

Registering to Vote. Register to vote in person with either the county registrar (usually the circuit clerk), the municipal clerk, or with the registrar or deputy registrar at a duly authorized satellite registration location. Registrars must accept registration at any time during regular office hours. The registration form is kept as a permanent record. Registration must be accomplished at least 30 days prior to the first election in which a citizen wishes to vote.

Mail-in voter registration forms are available at the Secretary of State's Office, in public libraries, drivers license examining stations, circuit clerk's offices, municipal clerk's offices, public schools, and online at the Secretary of State's web site, www.sos.state.ms.us. Additionally, voters may register at certain state and federal agencies. The application must be postmarked or delivered to the registrar 30 days prior to the first election in which a citizen wishes to vote.

Polling places and precincts are assigned to registered voters by the voter registrar. Voters who move from one precinct to another within the county or city should submit a written change of address notice to the registrar. Voters who move from county to county within the state must re-register in the new county of residence.

No Mississippian is required to declare a party preference in order to register to vote.

Voting absentee. Registered voters who meet one of the following criteria can apply for and vote by absentee ballot:

Away from county of residence on election day

65 years of age or older

Temporarily or permanently physically disabled

Student, teacher, or administrator, or a spouse and/or dependent whose studies or employment requires absence from the home county on election day

Must be at place of work during the times the polls are open

Member of the armed forces, a spouse, and/or dependent of military personnel

Member of the Merchant Marines or Red Cross, a spouse, and/or dependent of a member

Hospitalized, disabled war veteran, a spouse, and/or dependent of a hospitalized veteran

Civilian attached to and serving outside the U.S. with any branch of the armed forces, Merchant Marines, or Red Cross, or a spouse and/or dependent

Parent, spouse, and/or dependent who will be with a temporarily, or permanently, disabled individual who is hospitalized outside his/her county of residence, or more than 50 miles away from his/her residence, on election day

Member, spouse, or dependent of Mississippi's Congressional delegation

Applications for absentee ballots are accepted during regular working hours at the voter registrar's office beginning 45 days before an election. Applications also are accepted at the voter registrar's office from 8:00 a.m. until 12:00 p.m. on the two Saturdays before an election.

Only registered voters who meet any one or more of the following criteria may apply for and cast absentee ballots by mail:

65 years of age or older

Temporarily residing outside the county of residence

Parent, spouse, and/or dependent who will be with a temporarily, or permanently, disabled individual who is hospitalized outside his/her county of residence, or more than 50 miles away from his/her residence, on election day

Permanently or temporarily physically disabled

Mail-in absentee ballot applications must be notarized and officially sworn to by any one of the following:

Notary public

U.S. Postmaster

Assistant U.S. Postmaster

U.S. Postal Supervisor

Clerk in charge of a contract postal station

Any officer having authority to administer an oath or take an acknowledgment

Permanently physically disabled voters may receive absentee ballots on a continuing basis by submitting a regular absentee ballot application along with a statement signed and sworn to by a licensed physician or nurse practitioner to the voter registrar.

Members of the military and Mississippi citizens residing overseas may mail or fax a Federal Post Card Application (FPCA) to the voter registrar. The post card is obtained from their military command or employer and can be used to either apply for an absentee ballot, apply to register as a voter, or both. In addition, Mississippi law allows military and overseas voters to receive by fax from the registrar an absentee ballot and to return by fax to the registrar a voted absentee ballot. If time constraints dictate, a military or overseas voter may use a federal write-in ballot for voting.

Absentee ballots voted in the office of the voter registrar must be cast by noon on Saturday preceding a Tuesday election.

Mailed, completed absentee ballots must be received by the voter registrar before 5:00 p.m. on the day before election day, except for military and overseas ballots for President of the United States which may be received by the registrar until 7:00 p.m. on election day.

Absentee ballot fraud is a crime in Mississippi. A person convicted of absentee ballot fraud is subject to a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $5,000, or by imprisonment in county jail for no more than one year, or by both fine and imprisonment, or by being sentenced to the state penitentiary for not less than one year nor more than five years. The laws describing the crime and penalties are found in Miss. Code Ann., § 23-15-753 (1972).

The Election Process

The two major political parties in Mississippi are the Democratic Party of the State of Mississippi and the Mississippi Republican Party. Other registered political parties include the Libertarian Party of Mississippi, the Reform Party of Mississippi, Mississippi Constitution Party, and the Natural Law Party of Mississippi. Candidates who do not align themselves with any political party are known as Independents.

Generally, political parties choose members to serve on county executive committees during county caucuses held the year after gubernatorial races. Party state executive committees are elected at congressional district caucuses and state party conventions. Municipal party executive committees are elected in the municipal party primaries, usually held the year following presidential elections.

QUALIFYING FOR OFFICE

All candidates must meet the legal requirements to hold the office sought. Qualifying deadlines are the same for both independent candidates and party candidates.

Party candidates pay qualifying fees and file qualifying papers with the municipal or county party executive committees or, in the case of state and state district races, with the state party executive committee.

Independent candidates do not pay qualifying fees to run for office. Rather, they qualify by filing petitions signed by a specified number of registered voters. Independent candidates for state and state district offices file with the Secretary of State's Office petitions which have been certified by the local county voter registrar. Independent candidates for county and county district offices file qualifying papers with the county registrar's office, and independent candidates for municipal office file qualifying papers with the municipal registrar's office.

Fee for party candidates: $15 made payable to the appropriate county executive committee via the Circuit Clerk.

Number of signatures required for Independent candidates: 15. No fee required.

Note: In most cases, fees are assessed only of candidates who run in party primaries. Independent candidates are not assessed fees. For the current schedule of most fees, see Miss. Code Ann., § 23-15-297 and § 23-15-977 (1972). Party candidates must file the required fee and a qualifying statement of intent (available from the Circuit Clerk or the Secretary of State's Office). The completed and certified petitions of Independent candidates for multi-county offices must be submitted to the Secretary of State's Office by the appropriate qualifying deadline. Accordingly, the petition must first be submitted a reasonable time in advance to the appropriate Circuit Clerk's office so signatures may be certified as those of registered voters. More information can be obtained from the Secretary of State's Office or the Circuit Clerk.

PRIMARY ELECTIONS

Party candidates are nominated during party primary elections. Voters cast ballots in the party primary of their choice. If no candidate receives a majority of the votes, a run-off, or second primary, is held between the top two vote getters. The second primary is held three weeks after the first primary in all except municipal second primaries which are held two weeks after the first primary.

Voters in the first primary of one party may not "crossover" and vote in the second primary of another party. Persons who do not vote in a first primary may vote in any party's second primary.

County or municipal party executive committees conduct party primary elections and certify party primary election returns. These certified returns are filed with the applicable voter registrar. Results of state or state district primaries are sent to the state party executive committee for certification. Certified results of state and state district party primaries are filed with the Secretary of State's Office.

Non-Partisan Elections

The elections for Supreme Court Justices, Court of Appeals Judges, Chancery Court Judges, Circuit Court Judges, and County and Family Court Judges are conducted as non-partisan races. Thus, candidates for these offices must submit qualifying fees and papers to statutorily designated offices.

GENERAL ELECTIONS

Party nominees, qualified independent candidates, candidates for non-partisan offices, and certain ballot measures like bond issues and constitutional amendments usually appear on general election ballots.

The Secretary of State issues the official "sample ballot" for state and state district offices. Local election commissions issue the official "sample ballot" for county and municipal offices.

Usually, the candidate receiving the highest number of votes is elected in the general election. However, second primary elections held after the general election are sometimes necessary for non-partisan judicial offices, election commissioners, and some special elections because no party primary is held.

General elections are run by county election commissions or municipal election commissions with limited oversight from the State Board of Election Commissioners, comprised of the Governor, the Secretary of State, and the Attorney General. Voter registrars and the Secretary of State's Office assist. Local election commissions file certified election returns with the Secretary of State's Office. Municipal election commissions file copies of the certified election returns with the Secretary of State's Office.

The Gubernatorial Election of 1999

The November 2, 1999, election for Governor was one of the closest in Mississippi history. Ronnie Musgrove received 379,033 popular votes, or 49.62 percent, and Mike Parker received 370,691 popular votes, or 48.52 percent. The remaining votes were split between two minor candidates. Both Ronnie Musgrove and Mike Parker received 61 "electoral votes."

Usually, a person elected to statewide office, including Governor, receives more than half of the popular votes cast and also a majority of the electoral votes. An electoral vote automatically goes to the person who wins the most popular votes in each of the 122 state House of Representatives districts. These requirements are set out in Section 140 of the Mississippi Constitution of 1890.

If a candidate does not receive both a majority of the popular votes and a majority of the electoral votes, Section 141 of the Constitution provides that the newly elected members of the state House of Representatives shall choose the Governor from between the two candidates receiving the highest number of popular votes. On January 4, 2000, the Mississippi House of Representatives elected Ronnie Musgrove the state's 62nd Governor by a vote of 86 to 36.

Campaign Finance Disclosure and Organization

Candidates for public office in Mississippi must follow state law regarding disclosure of their political contributions and expenditures. Political committees, groups that raise and donate money on behalf of candidates or issues, also must follow the state's disclosure laws.

The Mississippi Legislature passed a major campaign finance reform bill in 1998; it became law in 1999. The new law sets the campaign contribution and expenditure reporting threshold at $200 for all candidates and political committees.

Any person or group who spends or receives in the aggregate $200.01 or more to influence an election must file all applicable campaign finance reports, even if qualifying papers have not been filed. In addition to campaign finance disclosure reports, political committees must file a statement of organization within ten days of receiving or spending in excess of $200 to influence voters.

Candidates for state, state district, and legislative office file reports with the Secretary of State's Office. County and county/district candidates file reports with the appropriate circuit clerk, and candidates for municipal office file reports with the municipal clerk.

All judicial candidates, except justice court judges, are required to establish committees to handle campaign finances. Candidate committees for judges are prohibited from soliciting donations earlier than 60 days before the candidate qualifying deadline and later than 90 days after the last applicable election day, according to Canon 7, Code of Judicial Conduct.

Once authorized by a candidate to conduct campaign activities for any elected office except a federal office, a candidate's political committee must also file a statement of organization and campaign finance reports. Candidates for federal office should contact the Federal Election Commission for campaign finance disclosure requirements.

CAMPAIGN FINANCE REPORT REQUIREMENTS

Five types of campaign finance reports are required of all candidates, candidate's committees, and political committees. These reports are filed at different times.

1. Pre-election reports — Aggregate from January 1 through the tenth day before each election. Due date: the 7th day before any election. Candidates and candidate committees file only in elections in which the candidates' names are on the ballot, but political committees file before any primary, run-off, or general election, even if the committee is not involved.

2. Periodic reports — Aggregate from January 1 through the due date. Periodic reports are due in gubernatorial and judicial election years. Due dates: May 10, June 10, July 10, October 10, and January 10.

3. Annual reports — Aggregate for the period from January 1 through December 31. Due date: January 31 except following gubernatorial election years, during which periodic reports are filed.

4. 48 Hour reports — Applies only to candidates. Reportable contributions received after the tenth day, but more than 48 hours before 12:01 a.m. on the election day, must be reported by fax, mail, or hand delivery to the appropriate office within 48 hours of receipt.

5. Termination reports — Due when political activities cease. Contains all reportable activity since the last filed report. Unless and until a termination report is filed, every candidate and committee must file every required report. A termination report may be filed when contributions are no longer accepted, expenditures are no longer made, and there are no outstanding debts or financial obligations associated with the candidate or committee activities. Filing a termination report is the only way to end reporting obligations and responsibilities. If no termination report is filed, candidates and committees remain subject to filing all other required reports.

Political committees and individuals aligned for or against constitutional initiatives must file monthly initiative committee reports with the Secretary of State.

REPORT CONTENTS

All reports must include

1. Aggregated year-to-date totals — Total year-to-date amount of contributions received and expenditures made must be reported by all candidates.

2. Cash on hand — All cash on hand must be reported and carried over year-to-year.

3. Contributions — An itemized listing must be reported of each contributor who has contributed in the aggregate over $200 year-to-date, including name, address, occupation, employer, date of each contribution, amount of each contribution, and year-to-date aggregate contribution.

4. Expenditures — An itemized listing must be reported of each expenditure of over $200 in the aggregate year-to-date and the person or business, including name, address, occupation, employer, date of expenditure, amount of expenditure, and year-to-date aggregate expenditures.

Campaign finance report forms may be obtained from the local voter registrar's office, the Secretary of State's Office, or downloaded from the Secretary of State's web site at www.sos.state.ms.us.

STATEMENT OF ECONOMIC INTEREST

Candidates for public office also must file a "Statement of Economic Interest" with the Mississippi Ethics Commission. The form may be obtained from the Mississippi Ethics Commission. For more information about the Mississippi Ethics Commission, see page 434.

TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE

Candidates, candidate's committees, and political committees are advised to review the appropriate statutes and state laws regarding regulation and disclosure of campaign finances and other obligations and responsibilities. Miss. Code Ann., § 23-15-801 et seq. (1972).

The information printed in this edition of the Official and Statistical Register regarding voter registration, voting, absentee voting, candidate qualifications, dates of elections, qualifying deadlines, and campaign finance disclosure is subject to change due to legislation or action by the courts. Always refer to the current language in effect for the appropriate statutes and contact your circuit clerk or the Secretary of State's Office before relying on the information in this book.

The Secretary of State's Office Election Answerline numbers are 1-800-829-6786 and 601-576-2550. Telephone numbers and addresses of the state's circuit clerks and election commissioners are listed in the County section of this book.

Disclaimer: The Secretary of State's Office is required by law to post the certified returns exactly as they are submitted, regardless of numerical accuracy. Thus, election return totals provided herein appear exactly as certified to the Secretary of State's Office by the responsible election officials.

The Secretary of State's Office certifies general election results for statewide, federal, and multi-county offices. County election commissioners certify general election results for countywide and county district offices. State party executive committees for each party certify primary election results for statewide, federal, and multi-county offices. County party executive committees of each party certify primary election results of countywide and county district offices. Municipal election commissioners certify municipal general elections. Municipal executive committees of each party certify municipal primary elections.

Primary elections are not conducted for the following judicial offices: Supreme Court Justice, Court of Appeals Judge, Circuit Court Judge, Chancery Court Judge, County Court Judge, and Family Court Judge.

Late in August, if rain falls along the course of the Mississippi there will be a rise on the lake as the river backs into it. The mud flats are covered. The trees put on pale spikes of new growth. The sandbars are washed clean. Mud runnels stream from the rain-heavy willow fronds and the willows lift their heads. The fish are biting again.
